DYNAMITER GETS SEVERE GRILLING

WAS TERRORIZED BY HOCKIN

McManigal Declares Motive for Causing Explosions Was Not Money. Thought His Work Would Build Up the Union.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25.—The contentions of the defense that the McNamaras and Ortie E. McManigal alone were responsible for explosions and that the Iron Workers' Union executive board and President Frank Ryan knew nothing of any $1,000 expended from the union funds for destroying non-union property, were pursued in the cross examination of McManigal at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today.

Before being turned over to the government McManigal had told stories of how he and the McNamaras had talked over blowing up the locks of the Panama canal and how James B. McNamara was to return to Los Angeles and "wipe that city off the map" by a series of explosions and how they were prevented from carrying out these plots by their arrest in April, 1911. He also had related that after his and James B's arrest in Detroit and on the train to Chicago James B. offered Guy Biddinger, a detective, $30,000 to allow them to escape, telling Biddinger "if you can't get it, Clarence Darrow will."

"Was the pay you received from the McNamaras your motive in causing so many explosions?" asked Senator Kern.

"No, it was not money. Herbert S. Hockin, when he first started me into the dynamiting business, terrorized me, saying if I did not do it he would prevent me from getting work. Then I was prompted by a foolish notion that it was for the good of the Iron Workers' Union. My mind was inflamed with the idea it would build the union."

McManigal admitted he had been arrested three times, twice for larceny and once for disorderly conduct.

"After the Los Angeles Times building was blown up when you and James B. were hunting in the woods in Wisconsin, you say he admitted to you that he deliberately killed the 21 persons; that he was a printer and he knew he would kill some one when he put the bomb in the Times building, and yet you continued to associate with him?"

"Yes I did."

"McNamara had said that when J. J. McNamara, secretary of the union planned "wholesale explosions," including the blowing up of Los Angeles city, he was afraid the "executive board would cut off his allowance."

"Now, you say McNamara, in order to get more money, proposed to steal $150,000 by killing the treasurer of the automobile races at the speedway in Indianapolis and yet you still kept company with these men who planned the murder?"

"Yes, I did."

McManigal told in detail how much he was paid for each "job."

"When you caused the explosion in the Llewellyn iron plant in Los Angeles on December 25, 1910, how much did you charge for it?"

"I got $525, which included my expenses."

Other witnesses interrupted McManigal's examination.

Mrs. Sadie Maguire testified she was a neighbor in Chicago of the McManigal family. She said in November, 1910, the month of the Los Angeles Times explosion, at the request of Mrs. McManigal, she arranged with her uncle, Marion Sharp, Kenosha, Wis., for McManigal to go on a hunting trip. When the hunters returned to Chicago in January, she said she went to a theatre party, one of the party being a man who answered Jas. B. McNamara's description.

She accompanied Mrs. McManigal and the latter's children to California after McManigal was taken there and on her return to Chicago, she said, she placed the McManigal children in the care of Ed Nockels, a labor union official. Later, she said, she collected from R. L. Houllahan, financial secretary of the Chicago Iron Workers' Union $9 a week to be paid to Mrs. McManigal, hearing Houllahan say on one occasion to Mrs. McManigal: "I'll give you $25 while this is going on."

George W. Caldwell, member of a firm of contractors, said after explosions on his works at Columbus, Ind., and Omaha, Neb., Hockin visited him at a hotel in construction at Tulsa, Okla. "I told Hockin I had enough of him and I would not unionize the job," said Caldwell.

"He replied that they would even up with me. The work later was unionized. Frank K. Painter, the business owner at Omaha, had told us we would have to unionize the job in Omaha, but we did not and the work was dynamited."

When Ortie E. McManigal resumed his confession today District Attorney Miller asked him to tell what, if anything, "you and the McNamaras said

EXPLOSION WRECKS STARCH PLANT

From Three to 12 Men Killed and 27 Injured in Destruction of Dry Starch House of the Corn Products Company.

Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 25.—An explosion which wrecked the dry starch house of the Corn Products Company's plant this afternoon, killed between three and twelve workmen, injured 27 others, several of whom will die, and caused about $100,000 property damage.

Uncertainty as to the number of dead was caused by inability of firemen to search the burning ruins because of continued minor explosions. Edward Conrad, deputy in the Lake county coroner's office, was authority for the statement that 12 men at least had been trapped in the wrecked building.

Charles Ebert, superintendent of the Corn Products Company's Waukegan plant, said that only three men had been killed and 27 injured by the explosion.

Only 30 men had business in the starch house at the time of the explosion," said Mr. Ebert. "We have 27 of these at the hospital and three bodies or portions of bodies, have been recovered. That checks the list and I think this will be found to be absolutely correct."

Mr. Ebert admitted it was possible that additional workmen not employed in the starch house might have been caught in the explosion, but said this was improbable.

Nearly all of the workmen killed or injured were Polish, Lithuanian or Austrian and they were on the company's payroll by numbers and not by names. This further increased the difficulties met by the coroner's inquest in his efforts to arrive at a correct death list.

The explosion tore the three-story frame top house from the five-story building and scattered bits of it for 50 yards in all directions. The body of one man killed was blown across the hills in Aukwon cemetery.

All of the injured were coated with starch, which had to be washed off before surgeons could treat their injuries.

Many ambulances were pressed into service to carry the injured to the hospitals.

Firemen from the several large plants here aided the Waukegan department in preventing the spread of the fire to other portions of the big Corn Products plant. Although the fire appeared to be under control tonight, the firemen said they expected it would continue to burn tomorrow, with the possibility that new explosions would start it afresh.

SERIOUS EXPLOSION

Brooklyn's East River Water Front Devastated by Fire

New York, Nov. 26.—Brooklyn's East river water front was the scene late today of the most serious explosion and fire that this section has known for years. Fifteen men were removed to hospitals, suffering from burns and injuries from which a number may die. Several persons on the scene at the time were missing tonight, but later reports discredited earlier reports that several lives had been lost. The area of three blocks was swept and a loss of nearly $250,000 caused.

The fire started with a series of explosions of chemicals on the ground floor of the five-story building of the Union Sulphur Company in the Williamsburg section. Of the 70 men at work in the building a dozen on the main floor were hurled in every direction.

Four other explosions followed and the building was soon envelped in the weird blue flames of burning sulphur. Workers who had escaped from other entrances fought their way through the sulphur fumes to the rescue of the unfortunates, and were themselves overcome.

The flames swept down on a large hay and grain warehouse and licked so close to the plants of the Brooklyn Gas Company and the Pratt and Standard Oil Company that a series of terrible explosions was momentarily feared.

An official of the company which owns both the sulphur plant and grain warehouse said tonight that the loss was officially estimated at $245,000, covered by insurance.

J. B. SNEED TESTIFIES.

Takes Stand in Own Defense—Sensations at Trial.

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 25.—John Beall Sneed, on trial on charge of murder in connection with the killing of A. G. Boyce, Sr., began his testimony in his own behalf today, but had not progressed far with his narrative, when court adjourned for the day. Sneed told of his boyhood friendship for A. G. Boyce, Jr., and of their intimate relations. At this point court adjourned.

The killing of Capt. Boyce last January and more recently of A. G. Boyce, Jr., by Sneed, came as a sequel to an elopement.

W. A. Weaver, who testified this morning as an eye witness to the shooting of the elder man, was arrested on a charge of perjury late today on complaint of the county attorney.

Presiding Judge Swayne announced this afternoon that hereafter he would read no communication coming to him through the mail with reference to the Sneed trial. He said he was being deluged with letters bearing on the trial, some of them evidently written with the intention of influencing him and hereafter his secretary will open and censor all his mail.

WAR CLOUDS STILL HANG OVER EUROPE

Slightest Move May Engulf Great Powers in Fight to the Death.

PEACE ENVOYS HOLD MEETING

Armistice Has Not Yet Been Aranged —Bulgaria Manifests Irritation At the Dilatory Negotiations Of the Porte

London, Nov. 25.—The extreme anxiety manifested by all the European governments to deny reports of warlike preparations and to represent the political situation as peaceful and satisfactory, in itself indicates on how slender a thread the issues of peace and war in Europe now hang.

The danger arises not alone from the conflicting interests of Austria, Servia and other powers, but from the possibility that Turkey, following the traditional policy of profiting by the embroilment of the great powers, may adopt an irreconciliable attitude in the peace negotiations.

Beyond the fact that the plenipotentiaries met today nothing is known yet—not even whether an armistice has been arranged. There appears to be a suspension of operations at the Tchatalja lines, apparently by tacit consent, rather than by footman agreement.

The semi-official Bulgarian newspapers editorially voice the governmental irritation at Turkey's dilatory methods of negotiation and accuse the Porte of deliberately nominating delegates from remote points in order to gain time. This probably refers to Osman Nizami Pasha, the ambassador to Germany, who only arrived at Constantinople from Berlin today.

In the diplomatic field the most important reports are that Servia declines to reply to the Austrian demand until the war is concluded and that Germany has not undertaken to mediate between Austria and Russia. The news that Servia is throwing further obstacles in the way of the Austrian representative in search of Prochaska, the Austrian consul at Prysand, is another disquieting feature.

Fighting continues around Adrianople, where the besieging forces are reported to have drawn their investing circle to within two-thirds of a mile of the town.

ANOTHER ARREST MADE.

T. J. Ponder Charged With Trying to Force Girl Into White Slavery.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 25.—Another arrest was made here today by the United States authorities in connection with the alleged effort to force Miss Genevieve Goodwin, the pretty nurse girl from Cincinnati, into "white slavery."

T. J. Ponder, of Forsyth, Ga., who has been financing the Metropolitan Musical Comedy Company here, was arrested when he appeared at the local jail to visit Mrs. Emma Pauline Hudson, manager of the troupe, and Robert Grier, stage director, arrested several days ago.

The trio is in jail tonight as a result of their inability to obtain $2,000 bond each. They will be arraigned tomorrow before United States Commissioner Walter Colquitt for their preliminary hearing. None of the three would discuss the charge against them tonight.

Miss Goodwin, who came here to acept a place in the company, and whose reports to the police resulted in Federal action, is still in the city with friends. She said tonight that she expected her father here from Kentucky shortly and that she would return home with him as soon as the pending court action would allow.

The girl has steadfastly refused to give her father's name, saying that he was a prominent broker in a Kentucky city.

SHERIFF KILLED IN DUEL.

And Farmer Fatally Wounded in Battle With Revolvers.

Olive Branch, Miss., Nov. 25.—W. T. Branch, sheriff of Desota county, was killed and G. W. Treadway, a farmer, probably fatally wounded in a revolver battle today at the Treadway home, where the sheriff and a posse had gone to arrest the farmer. Treadway was charged with driving officers from his home at the point of a revolver Saturday. They had called to seize some cotton to satisfy a judgment.

Members of the posse state that Treadway today invited Sheriff Harris to enter his home. As Harris reached the doorway he was shot down. An exchange of shots between the posse and Treadway, assisted by his two sons, Earl and Murel, followed.

The elder Treadway's arms and shoulders were riddled with bullets. Earl surrendered, but Murel escaped. The latter is being pursued by posses.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The War Department announced today the names of 12 men who have passed the examination held in September for appointment as second lieutenants in coast artillery corps. Among them are Edwin B. Spiller, Wytheville, Va., and Cecil G. Young, Baltimore.

SUFFRAGETTES NAME LEADERS

American Woman's Suffrage Association Re-elects Most of Its Present Officers—Non-Partisan Political Body.

Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—Women from the West, South, North and East, delegates to the convention of the American Woman's Suffrage Association, realized their principal ambition here this afternoon when they exercised their right of franchise in choosing officers of that association for the ensuing year.

The majority of the officers were re-elected, though there were several nominees for some of the positions.

The officers chosen are: President, Anna Howard Shaw, Moylan, Pa.; first vice president, Jane Addams, Chicago; second vice president, Anita Whitney, California; recording secretary, Susan W. Fitzgerald, Boston; corresponding secretary, Mary Ware Dennett, New York; treasurer, Mrs. Stanley McCormick, Chicago; auditors, Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, New York, and Mrs. Joseph T. Brown, Chicago.

The resolutions committee's report contained less than 100 words, placing the association on record as favoring a non-partisan political body. The resolution on this point read:

"Resolved, That the National American Woman's Suffrage Association shall maintain its time-honored tradition of being absolutely non-partisan as to political parties."

It was adopted without a dissenting vote.

While the tellers were counting the votes cast for officers, delegates in three minute talks talked of the work being done in their respective States to gain the ballot for women. All speakers were optimistic and predicted that the aim of the association would soon be gained.

Dr. Anna Shaw in a speech in which she showed much feeling, said she would give the association her loyal support and in return demanded loyalty from the members.

One of the most impressive addresses of the day was made by Leonora O'Reilly, head of the Women's Trade Union in New York, who spoke in behalf of working girls. She requested the college women in the auditorium not to correct the grammar of working girls but to "merely let the girls do things in their own way and feel encouraged by their support."

"Don't try to boss us," continued Miss O'Reilly, "when we come to you for help. Don't be afraid of us when we go on strike. We must protect outselves."

A big mass meeting was held tonight under the auspices of the association, at the Metropolitan Opera House. Prominent speakers made addresses.

"HUMAN BOMB" BOUND OVER.

Grand Jury Investigating Case of Maniac Who Terrorized City.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 25.—Carl Riedelbach, alias Carl Warr, called by the police the "Human Bomb", was bound over today to the grand jury by Police Judge Williams and a few moments later the grand jury was investigating the case. Riedelbach's bond was fixed at $20,000.

At the request of Chief Sebastian, Riedelbach made a drawing of the infernal machine with which he caused a panic at the Central police station last Tuesday. He declared several times that he had no intention of exploding the machine, but that he was "bluffing."

OUTLINES

Ortie E. McManigal, the confessed dynamiter, received a severe grilling at the hands of the defense in the "dynamite conspiracy" trial yesterday, the labor leaders' attorneys attempting to show that the McNamaras and McManigal alone were responsible for the explosions.

Senator Isador Rayner, of Maryland, died yesterday morning after a continued illness, and on his death may hinge the control of the next Senate.

The jury sitting in the case of Ettor, Giovannitti and Caruso reached a verdict last night after several hours' deliberation, but their decision will not be rendered until today.

The issue of peace and war in Europe hangs on a slender thread and hostilities are likely to break out between some of the powers at any time. The peace envoys of Turkey and and Balkan allies met yesterday, but it has not been learned whether an armistice was arranged.

The Gondorf gang of wire-tappers and other swindlers of their ilk in New York have fleeced gullible persons out of over $750,000 during the year, according to persons in touch with the situation.

The American Woman's Suffrage Association in session at Philadelphia yesterday re-elected practically all of the present officers and adopted resolutions favoring a non-partisan organization.

An explosion which wrecked the dry starch plant of the Corn Products Company at Waukegan, Ill., yesterday, killed between three and 12 workmen and severely injured 27 others.

The Progressive National Committee filed a statement yesterday showing that contributions to the Roosevelt campaign amounted to $688,869.

New York markets: Money on call strong, 6 to 8 1-2 per cent; ruling rate 6; closing bid 8 1-2; offered at 9. Spot cotton closed steady. Flour steady. Wheat firm, No. 2 red 1.05 1-2 to 1.06 1-2. Corn quiet, 53 1-2. Turpentine quiet. Rosin steady.

RAYNER ANSWERS FINAL ROLL CALL

Funeral Services for Maryland Senator Will be Held Wednesday.

CONTROL OF THE U. S. SENATE

May Hinge on His Death as Governor Goldsborough, Republican, Will No Doubt Appoint a Republican to Succeed Him

Washington, Nov. 25.—Funeral services for Senator Isador Rayner, of Maryland, who died here early today of neuritis, after a protracted illness, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Rayner home in this city. The services will be conducted by the Rev. U. G. B. Pierce, chaplain of the Senate, and President Taft's pastor, assisted by the Rev. Charles Wood, of the Church of the Covenant, in Washington. The interment will be in Rock Creek cemetery in this city.

Official Washington will be largely represented at the funeral. President Taft and members of his cabinet have signified their intention of attending and committees from both houses of Congress, as well as many Marylanders prominent in official and civic life, will be present.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Isador Rayner, of Maryland, one of the leading Democratic members of the United States Senate and a man whose name was offered to the Baltimore convention by W. J. Bryan as a suitable candidate for the Presidential nomination, died here early today at the end of a long illness resulting from continued attacks of neuritis.

Senator Rayner had been in a comatose state since last Wednesday, with only one or two slight rallies. His severe illness covered a period of about six weeks, dating from the efforts made in the joint political debate with Bourke Cockran at Baltimore last September. Physicians compelled him to retire from the campaign immediately after that and he returned to his Washington home, where he died at 6:20 o'clock this morning.

For over five years Senator Rayner had been a sufferer from neuritis. His death creates a vacancy in the Senate that probably will be filled by a Republican through appointment of Governor Goldsborough, of Maryland. While the Legislature of that States is Democratic, it does not meet this Winter and the Republican Governor's appointment will hold through the opening sessions of the next Congress.

The control of the United States Senate after March 4th, may hinge on the death of Senator Rayner.

The Republican whom it is expected Governor Goldsborough will appoint in his place will hold office at least until the Maryland Legislature meets in January, 1914.

Senator Rayner's death removes one of the Democrats on whom the control of the Senate depended in the next Congress. With his vote the Democratic leaders counted on mustering 49, or one more than a majority of a total membership of 96. In any event, 48 votes, with the vote of the Vice President in case of a tie, was looked upon as sufficient strength to insure control.

While the Democrats still have an apparent strength of 48, the death of the Maryland Senator reduces the supposed majority to a point very near the dividing line of party control.

Senator Rayner was one of the striking figures of the Senate. He had been a member of that body almost eight years and was one of its strongest debaters and a recognized authority on constitutional law.

Before he entered the Senate he had attained a National reputation because of his vigorous conduct of the late Admiral Schley's case before the naval court of inquiry that investigated the action of the American officers in the battle with Admiral Cevera's Spanish fleet.

Senator Rayner was a native of Baltimore and was 62 years old. He was a member of the Maryland Legislature when 28 years old and served three terms in the National House of Representatives in the period from 1886 to 1892. He was elected to the United States Senate in 1904, after having served a four years' term as Attorney General of Maryland.

As a member of the Committees on Foreign Relations and Judiciary, Senator Rayner devoted especial attention during the last few years to America's financial, constitutional and legal problems. He was a strong advocate of the abrogation of the treaty with Russia because of that country's discrimination against passports presented by American Jews and exercised a marked influence in getting the Senate to endorse such action.

Rayner's Likely Successor.

Baltimore, Nov. 25.—Although Governor Goldsborough will not consider the matter of appointing a successor to the late United States Senator Rayner until after the Senator's funeral, those who are close to him believe that he will name for the place William H. Jackson, Maryland's member of the Republican National Committee.

The appointee will serve until his successor is chosen by the Legislature, which does not meet until January, 1914. With the election of this body next Fall, Senatorial primaries will be held, at which the voters will express their preference not only for the candidate to fill out the unexpired portion of Mr. Raynor's term, but also for the successor to Senator John Waller Smith, whose term ends March 3rd, 1915.

THEY HAVE SWINDLED MANY

Wire Tapping and Other Schemes In New York Net Crooks Nearly a Million—Collusion With The Police

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Nov. 25.—Wire tapping and other swindling schemes are, it is said today, flourishing in this city, $750,000 being taken from gullible persons within the last year. Most of these swindled have been out-of-town citizens, who generally fear to prosecute when arrests are made.

Charles and Frederick Gondorf, said to be leaders of the best wire-tapping gang in this city, were arrested three months ago on a charge of swindling, but the complainant refused to prosecute them. Recently the same men, with five others, were arrested and indicted for swindles which, in October alone, netted them $98,000. A man wha has many acquaintances among the wire-tapping crowd told a reporter today that in the last eleven months these swindlers have made not less than $750,000. This man said some of their schemes, victims and rewards are as follows: A gang swindled two men from Portland, Oregon, using the ancient "Spanish prisoner" trick, out of $36,000. The same crowd fleeced a Concord, N. H., merchant by means of the "sick mining engineer" scheme out of $27,000. Wire tapping with three Oklahoma men as victims, netted the gang $68,000. The "sick engineer" game made a Cleveland, Ohio, physician poorer by $43,000. A swindler who works alone landed a Dayton, Ohio, merchant by orally giving him the flat-iron building as security on a three months note for $20,000. Wire tapping cost four Des Moines, Iowa, lawyer and physicians, who permitted one of their number to carry on the deal which amounted to $18,000. Wire tapping cost a Dubuque, Iowa, merchant $11,000. Two men from Dallas, Texas, were caught by the "sick engineer" game for a loss of $24,000. A fake fight staged near White Plains, N. Y., cost a party of Alaskans $8,000. A well-known artist with home in Long Island, who prefers to live in Maine, hit the wire-tapping game for $36,000. The Sidburry-Powell-Jones-Pendleton swindles amounted to $98,000.

William P. Davis, a Philadelphia hotel proprietor, says he is willing to come to New York and testify either in the John Doe proceedings before Justice Goff or before the Curran Committee of the Board of Aldermen, which is investigating conditions in the police department about relations between the wire-tapping gang and the police.

Davis says he is a victim of the Gondorf gang to the extent of $8,000. He is now suing Frederick Gondorf, alias "Frederick McKee," and Earl B. Walzam, an alleged confederate of McKee, in the Supreme Court for the return of his money.

Justice Erlanger almost a year ago issued bench warrants for the arrests of both "McKee" and Walzam on this charge, but "McKee" was caught only recently. Walzam is not now in the jurisdiction of the New York courts.

Alexander A. Mayper, a former assistant district attorney, who is Davis' lawyer, told a reporter that he has documents connecting the police, particularly the detective bureau, with the wire-tapping swindle.

Mayper says there is no doubt there is collusion between the police and the wire tappers in return for a share of the plunder. Mayper says the police tell complaining victims of the wire tappers they had better go home and forget their loss, for should they persist in forcing their complaints into the courts the police would be compelled to hold them for breaking the law. Should this method fail and the victim insist that arrests be made, it is said, the police have arranged that the man robbed should receive from those who fleeced him a portion of what he last. Thus appeased, Mayper says, many men return to their homes and drop the complaint.

WESTERN M. E. CONFERENCE.

Reading of Appointments Closes Final Session—District Changed.

High Point, N. C., Nov. 25.—The 23rd annual session of the Western North Carolina Conference of the M. E. Church, South, ended shortly after noon today with the reading of appointments by Bishop Collins Denny. Much business was crowded into the final session. The Franklin district was abolished, the district being largely absorbed by the Waynesville district. The statistical report showed an increase of 10 preachers over the preceding year, and a decrease of 151 members. The present conference membership, including 179 preachers, is 95,030. The Sabbath observance committee's report, which was adopted, urged that instead of repealing the present Sunday postoffice closing act, it be made to apply to every postoffice in the country. The conference refused to order an assessment of $3,000 in the conference confines for the benefit of the North Carolina Christian Advocate, the official organ of the conference.

Havana, Nov. 25.—The baseball game here today between the Almendares and Philadelphia American teams resulted in a victory for the Cubans by a score of 3 to 2.

JURY DETERMINES FATE OF STRIKERS

But Verdict in Lopizzo Murder Case Will Not be Known Until Today.

JUDGE QUINN'S INSTRUCTIONS

Tells Jury Evidence Relating to Ettor and Giovannitti Doesn't Warrant Conviction for First Degree Murder.

Salem, Mass., Nov. 25.—The fate of Joseph J. Ettor, Arturo Giovannitti and Joseph Caruso, charged with responsibility for the murder of Anna Lopizzo in a strike riot at Lawrence last Winter, is reported tonight to have been determined by the jury which tried them, but the verdict will not be known until tomorrow.

Less than an hour after Judge Joseph Quinn had left the court house at 6 o'clock tonight with the announcement that he would not receive a verdict until tomorrow, the jurors filed from their room and went to the hotel for supper.

After supper they retired to their rooms and the report spread quickly that a verdict had been reached. Judge Quinn, it was declared, had been informed of the report, but did not alter his decision not to accept the findings of the jury tonight. When the jury left the court house it had been deliberating five hours.

Officers of the court, attorneys interested in the case and anxious friends of the accused remained about the court house until a late hour, but their hopes for a reception of a verdict were unrewarded. Scores of rumors as to the nature of the finding were circulated. These embraced every possible form.

Late tonight it was rumored that Judge Quinn might open court at an unusually early hour tomorrow to receive the report of the jury if an agreement actually had been reached. That the court might receive the jurors as early as 7 o'clock was said to be probable, though Judge Quinn fixed the hour for opening court at 8 o'clock.

When the report of the jury having reached an agreement was spread, District Attorney Attwill had gone to his home in Lynn. Some of the defendants' attorneys had left for their homes in nearby towns. Fred H. Moore and J. P. S. Mahoney, of counsel for the defense, were here, however, ready to appear if court were convened.

The case was given to the jury after Judge Quinn had delivered a lengthy charge, in which he gave the instruction that neither Ettor nor Giovannitti could be found guilty of murder in the first degree.

"The evidence relating to these two defendants," said the court, "does not warrant conviction for murder in the first degree, but it is not contended that either of them premeditated the death of any one."

For Caruso, however, the instructions did not preclude the electric chair. Should the jury find him guilty of participation in the fatal riot, the court charged, it might find him guilty of murder in the first or second degree. A hopeful instruction for this prisoner, however, was that the jury, in order to adjudge him guilty of first degree murder, must be satisfied that he or his confederates acting with him premeditated taking a human life.

The instructions also eliminated the possibility of a verdict for manslaughter against any of the defendants. The very nature of the indictments precluded such a verdict, the court asserted. Ettor and Giovannitti must be found guilty of murder in the second degree or acquitted.

Hundreds of friends and sympathizers of the defendants were in Salem today walking the streets near the court house until long after dark. One man who refused to move from the court house entrance, when ordered away by the police, was locked up on the charge of obstructing the sidewalk.

Squads of mill workers walked back and forth in front of the court house for hours watching the windows of an upper room where the jurors were deliberating. Frequently members of the jury could be seen near the windows. Shortly before 7 o'clock the jurors were marched under guard of six deputies to their hotel. It was then that they were only going to supper, but the report spread later that an agreement had been reached.

The prisoners were taken from the court house to the jail as soon as the jury retired. Giovannitti, just before he left, was handed a cablegram from his mother in Italy, a message of cheer and a mother's blessing. When he read it he showed it to Ettor and to their attorneys.

SENTENCES GUNMEN TODAY

Justice Goff Will Tell Them They Must Die In Chair

New York, Nov. 25.—Sentence of death in the electric chair will be pronounced tomorrow upon the four gunmen convicted of murdering Herman Rosenthal, at the instigation of Charles Becker, the former police lieutenant.

"Gyp the Blood," "Lefty Louie," "Whitey" Lewis and "Dago Frank" will appear then before Justice Goff in the Supreme Court for sentence.

..Theatrical..

Sarah Bernhardt, "Divine Sarah," as she is known to the theatrical world and who can always play a farewell tour, is at the Academy. Not in the flesh, to be sure, but otherwise there. All of that grace and magnetism of acting that has made her renown and the foremost actress on the stage, is present and, but for the voice, one feels her powerful presence.

Sarah Bernhardt is at the Academy as the star in the Daniel Frohman production of "Queen Elizabeth" and all the star actors and actresses that appeared with her can also be seen. It is the Frohman $100,000 photoplay, which has caused such a sensation, and the pictures are the clearest and most elaborate ever created. Aside from the beauty of the pictures and the superb acting depicted one should want to see them in order to say that he has seen Sarah Bernhardt. The engagement opened last night and was successful, though, due to many counter attractions, the attendance was not what it should have been.

The pictures will be presented for three more nights, but it has been decided to only have one more matinee, which will be given Thursday, Thanksgiving afternoon, commencing at 4 o'clock and the prices will be 10 cents for children and 25 cents for adults.

Two performances will be given each night, the first beginning at 8 o'clock, and there will only be one price of admission—25 cents.

At The Bijou

Oh, wondrous things the popular, fascinating Bijou theatre, the favorite spot of children and the delight of grown-ups, is affording the people of Wilmington these days. For today it has another remarkable bill, one that will prove a powerful magnet and that will again stamp The Bijou as not only one of the best, but one of the most progressive of all the "movies."

Another Anderson film is on today. That means another big film success in which the noted and popular romantic actor, G. M. Anderson, will appear as the star. It is "The Desert Sweetheart" and it tells a graphic, virile tale of the "land of dead things." The scenes on the desert are intense, and will hold the attention of the onlookers in thrilling grip. It tells a very dramatic story of how a young prospector (G. M. Anderson) befriends a down-and-out man on the desert, and the latter returns and runs off with the prospector's sweetheart. Then commences a search on the desert that is intense and exciting, with a startling climax.

Another star today is the star story of the December Motion Picture Story Magazine. Readers of this magazine will recall "The Country Boy," and will, of course, desire to see it depicted on the moving picture screen, especially in such fine manner as it will be today at The Bijou. The thrilling finale to the picture is a daring rescue from a burning building in New York.

Yet another big star today is "A Noble Profession" and it is not only highly dramatic, but educational, as all the scenes take place on famed Blackwell's Island.

"Uncle Mun" at The Grand

Who has not read and appreciated the quaint humor of "Uncle Mun," the great comic supplement hit? Well, everybody knows it and The Grand is going to present it for the benefit of its many enthusiastic patrons, old as well as young. The subject is an Edison and it is entitled "A Thrilling Rescue by Uncle Mun." The story opens with William E. Nankeville's studio in the country. He is busy drawing sketches and these suddenly become animated. As the creator of this famous character is dreaming in his studio, Nankeville receives a telephone message to disguise as Uncle Mun and come out to the golf grounds for a match with an erstwhile champion.

Nankeville goes out as Uncle Mun and what is said and done is funnier than a box of monkeys. Everybody will recognize Uncle Mun and in his series of adventures on the golf grounds he will be as funny and as quaint as one could wish. The other big feature for today is a Selig, "A Man Among Men," which has to do with a wealthy automatic manufacturer, a pretty girl and a workman in his own shop. There is a great sacrifice, the tender devotion of a beautiful girl, all woven into as strong a dramatic production as patrons of The Grand have seen in a long time.

With these pictures there will be still another and a brand new song by Mr. Chick. It is entitled "I Always Knew the Girl I'd Love Would be a Girl Like You." It is a brand new waltz love ballad and should be heard.

BLEW OUT HIS BRAINS.

Jesse Boykin, Thinking He Had Killed a Man, Suicides.

Wilson, N. C., November 25.—Brooding all night in the belief that he had killed a man the night before, Jesse Boykin blew out his brains with a shot gun Sunday morning. He had quarreled with Jesse Burnett, at Simms, a neighboring town, Saturday, and shot him. Burnett raised his hand and said: "You have killed me." Boykin fled to his home in terror, and shot himself, after a sleepless night. Burnett was only slightly wounded in the hand by the shot.

THE SEWERAGE EXTENSIONS.

Bids Will be Opened by Council January 15th—Conference.

At a conference of members of Council at the City Hall yesterday morning it was practically decided to open bids for the extensions to the municipal sewerage system on January 15th. Advertisements are now being prepared and will be inserted in several engineering publications within the next two weeks. It had been hoped by members of Council that proposals could be received and the contract awarded before the end of the present calendar year, but Mr. F. F. Pillet, city engineer, suggested that owing to the fact that the holidays will soon be here and business is more or less demoralized for about two weeks during this period, it would be advisable to call for bids to be opened not earlier than the 15th of January. Members of Council present at the conference thought his suggestion a good one and practically decided that the bids be opened at that time.

A force of workmen has been busy for several days excavating on the City Hall green preparatory to connecting the City Hall building with the municipal sewerage system. The sewage from the City Hall has been emptying into Jacob's Run, which was recently condemned by the Council. All property owners having sewerage connection with Jacob's Run have been notified that they must cease to use Jacob's Run after a certain number of days from the adoption of the ordinance.

ROBBERS AT WORK

Store on Fourth and Castle Streets Entered Saturday Night

The store of Mr. Henry Michaelis, southwest corner of Fourth and Castle streets, was entered some time Saturday night and a quantity of cigars and tobacco and a small amount of money from the cash register were stolen. Entrance to the store was effected through a window in the rear of the store. The robber evidently tried to enter the store by cutting his way through the floor from beneath the building. Four auger holes were bored through the floor. Very likely the robber decided this was too slow and then went around to a rear window and broke it open.

A sneak thief was frightened away from the residence of Mr. Duncan, near Seventh and Castle streets, Saturday evening.

The police are still making a determined effort to locate the jewelry stolen from the residence of Rev. F. B. Clausen a few weeks ago. The officers have several clues which they are following up and hope to recover the property and arrest the robbers before a great while. The jewelry stolen from Mr. Clausen's residence is valued at several hundred dollars.

FIGHT IN RAILROAD CAMP

Negroes and Whites Clash Near Greensboro, N. C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 25.—Reports from St. Leo's hospital this morning offer little hope for the recovery of Rassie Butler, the young white man who was brought here last night with desperate wounds received in an encounter with negroes at a railroad camp near the Yadkin river and on the route of the Denton to High Rock Railroad. J. A. Michael, a middle-aged white man, who also received desperate wounds, will recover, it is said. From Micael's body 110 No. 6 shot have been picked. Young Butler, a son of G. F. Butler, of this county, received the full charge of a shotgun in the pit of the stomach. According to the reports brought here two negroes were wounded by the return fire of Butler and Michael.

The wounded white men were brought here by Dr. York, of Davidson county, though as to the details of the affair he knew little. From other sources it was learned here that Michael and Butler went to the negro camp of the construction force early Sunday morning; that Michael became involved in a difficulty with several negroes and that he was fired upon, one load of No. 6 shot entering his leg and another his side. Butler pulled a pistol and went to the defense of his companion, shooting down two negroes before the contents of a shotgun were emptied into his stomach. It was said that five negroes took part in the attack and that the three who were not wounded made their escape. The report which comes here is that a posse of Davidson and Rowan county officers, re-inforced by citizens, took the trail Sunday afternoon and was close after the fleeing negroes. The wounds received by the negroes are not serious, it was said.

Still another report which reached here was that the two white men went to the camp early Sunday morning to get some supplies from the commissary and that on their return they were held up by the negroes, both Butler and Michael opening fire and in turn being shot down by the negroes, three of whom were armed with shotguns. Michael, aside from receiving two loads of shot, was severely clubbed about the head. He is from Southmont and is said to be a rather desperate character about the camps. Young Butler, however, is said to bear a good reputation. He is from a good Guilford county family.

Young Carolina Navy Officer Appeals to Washington Department.

(By Parker R. Anderson.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—Representative E. Y. Webb has been requested to see the Navy Department in behalf of Lewis P. Davis, of Wilmington, and get him sent back to Annapolis as a teacher in the officers' school.

Mr. Davis held the position as teacher up to several weeks ago, when he protested against purchasing certain books that his superior officer ordered him to get. To humiliate the young man for his protest the authorities at Annapolis transferred him from Annapolis to sea duty.

Mr. Webb went to the Navy Department today, but got very little encouragement.

GIBSON JURY TIED UP.

Deliberated Till Midnight Without Reaching a Verdict.

Goshen, N. Y., Nov. 25.—The jury trying Burton W. Gibson, on the charge of murdering his client, Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo, on Greenwood lake last July, deliberated till midnight without reaching a verdict. At that hour they were still out and had been for more than four hours.

While Gibson sat in his cell awaiting word from the jury room, his wife, worn by her long vigil, was resting within call at a nearby cottage, after having paced up and down in front of the court house for some time in the rain.

In the court room at the time sat a detective armed with a warrant on which Gibson would be re-arrested in case he was acquitted of the murder charge. This warrant charged Gibson with the larceny in 1910 of $17,000 from Hugh Trainer, an aged awning maker and a former client of the prisoner. This warrant was based on the indictment found by the grand jury in New York county recently.

Indications were at midnight the jury would shortly be locked up for the night.

The court eliminated manslaughter from its charge today and said that one of three verdicts must be returned, murder in the first degree, second degree or acquittal.

In summing up for the State Isidore Wasservogel told the jurors that there were "no two ways of looking at the evidence." At great length he proceeded with a word picture of Greenwood lake and of the man and woman seen on it in a boat.

"We see him grasp her around the neck and trust his hand to her throat," he declared. "We see them fall into the water. We see the man alone emerge. Two days later we see him lay the woman in a nameless grave with kith and kin far away. Next we see him in the Surrogate Court asking for her money. That is our case sketched on the witness stand. Where does it fail?"

Judge Tompkins in charging the jury referred at some length to contradictory explanations given by Gibson of Mrs. Szabo's whereabouts after she had met her end and told them to consider "what these statements indicated as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant in connection with the death of Rosa Szabo."

Gibson listened to the prosecutor's address and the court's charge with downcast eyes. His wife, pallid and haggard, showed plainly the effects upon her of the lawyers' unfriendly words. Once she seemed about to faint when Mr. Wasservogel called attention to the signature of the bogus Mrs. Menschik attached to the dead woman's will. It was spelled "Manchik."

FITZGERALD AN EMBEZZLER?

Government Introduces Evidence to Show Possession of Money

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Evidence introduced by the government today in its case against George W. Fitzgerald, former assorting teller of the Chicago sub-treasury, accused of having embezzled $173,000, showed that the defendant had in his possession more than $14,000 in the two years following the disappearance of the money. The defense contends it can explain the source of every dollar that Fitzgerald handled.

Miles M. Barber testified that he received from Fitzgerald $8,500 July 1st, 1908, for a house in Rogers Park.

Edwin McNeal, a broker, declared Fitzgerald sold 20 shares of Trinity Copper Company stock and four Chicago City Railway Company bonds for more than $4,000. It was established through a cancelled check that Fitzgerald received $1,049 from William H. Colvin & Company, April 6th, 1909.

E. Z. Wallerstein, an insurance agent, testified that Fitzgerald had paid him $500 to carry on stock transactions.

It was brought out at a previous hearing that Fitzgerald had deposited $600 with Alfred L. Baker & Company on the day the shortage occurred to buy Trinity Copper Company stock.

Testimony as to Fitzgerald's financial transactions was introduced in the face of scores of objections by Attorney Edward R. Litzinger.

Ernest E. Quantrell, formerly employed in the bond department of the Chicago Savings Bank & Trust Company, was asked whether he had sold four Chicago city railway bonds January 9th, 1908. He replied in the affirmative, but said he could not identify the purchaser.

"The conditions of sale were very peculiar," said the witness. "The bonds were paid for in currency of large denominations of $500 or $1,000 bills."

JURY IS TIED UP.

Can't Agree in Case of Robt. T. Cameron, Alleged White Slaver.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 25.—The case of Robert T. Cameron, on trial in Federal court charged with violation of the Mann Act, went to the jury at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. At 9 o'clock the jury reported that balloting during the afternoon and evening had been of no avail and adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning.

District Attorney James B. Cox closed the argument for the government delivering a severe arraignment of the accused man. During the course of his address several times his reference to the tender age of the girl involved and alleged brutal treatment she received at the hands of Cameron, moved those in the audience, as well as members of the jury, to tears.

FOGEL DENIES CHARGES

Phillies' President Leaves for New York to Attend Meeting

Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—Before leaving for New York late today where he will attend the meeting of the National League tomorrow, at which the charges preferred against him by President Lynch will be acted upon, Horace S. Fogel, president of the Philadelphia club, emphatically denied having made the statemets attributed to him. He declared that if it is true, as he is led to believe, that several New York newspapers have sworn to affidavits that he said "The National League race was fixed for the Giants to win," he will prefer a charge of perjury against them in court.

A number of newspaper men and other persons who witnessed the game between the New York and Philadelphia teams in which Umpire Orth gave the decisions which caused the turmoil here, will, it is said, go to New York, and appear in defense of President Fogel.

New York, Nov. 25.—President Horace Fogel, of the Philadelphia club, arrived here tonight. He reiterated his innocence of the charges on which he will be tried at the National League meeting here tomorrow. All the National League club owners were in town tonight except Barney Dreyfus, of Pittsburg. Umpires and newspaper men who will testify for and against Fogel were also here.

N. C. TOWN WIPED OUT

Business District of Black Mountain Destroyed by Fire

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 25.—Fire of unknown origin started at midnight and destroyed early today the business district of Black Mountain, a town with a population of 1,000, near here. Only one store building of consequence was left standing. The damage is estimated at more than $50,000.

Four stores, two livery stables, a freight depot, a lumber company's warehouse and stock of lumber and several residences were burned.

Fire apparatus was sent from Asheville to the assistance of the volunteer brigade of Black Mountain.

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 25.—After hovering on the brink of dissolution for months, the Duluth Stock Exchange will quit next Saturday. The executive committee today announced that the exchange would go out of business because of lack of public interest. The exchange was organized about three years ago.

Royal Arcanum In State—Exchange of Courts—Several Charters Granted—Other News Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 25.—The grand officers of the North Carolina Grand Council, Royal Arcanum, were here today in conference on matters pertaining to the general advancement of the interests of the order in this State. The grand officers here were Grand Regent Clarence Johnson, Raleigh; Dr. J. H. Way, Waynesville, Grand Secretary; F. W. Hancock, Oxford, Past Grand Regent; H. E. Bonitz, Wilmington, Supreme Representative; H. P. Craven, Newbern, Grand Vice Regent. There are 44 Royal Arcanum councils in this State and 3,800 members. There are 245,000 in the United States.

Governor Kitchin today approved an exchange of courts whereby Judge H. P. Lane will hold Robeson court two weeks beginning December 2nd and Judge H. C. Bragaw will hold the Washington court two weeks beginning December 2nd and continuing two weeks.

Dr. J. Y. Joyner, State superintendent of public instruction, has gone to Greensboro to attend the annual session of the North Carolina Association of County Superintendents of Public Schools in session there this week in connection with the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly.

J. N. Hazlehurst, consulting engineer of Atlanta, is here as an expert for the Raleigh aldermen going through the books and the property of the Wake Water Company with a view to reporting on the value of the plant in connection with the proposal sale to the city. There is every indication now that the city will have municipal ownership of the water plant before a great while now.

Charters are issued for The Tidewater Grocery Co., Wilmington, capital $25,000 authorized and $525 subscribed by B. O. Stone, R. R. Stone and J. H. Stone, for wholesale grocery business; The Forest City Loan and Insurance Co., of Forest City, Rutherford county, capital $50,000 authorized and $1,500 subscribed by G. E. Young and others; The Guilford Farmers' Union Buggy Co., of Guilford, Guilford county, capital $50,000 authorized and $400 subscribed by Albert Peele, J. M. Brown, E. K. Copeland and B. F. Copeland.

The Raleigh Country Club, a two-year-old institution that has proven a splendid success in every way, is to hold a special meeting on the evening of December 6th for the purpose of taking action on a needed refunding of its bonded indebtedness and settling its financial interests generally. The club now has about 300 members with probably the handsomest and best appointed club house in the State and an exceptionally fine golf links, especially for so young a club. There are more than fifty golf players members and the game is gaining in popularity all the time. The work of extending the links from nine to eighteen holes is being gotten under way.

WAKE FOREST ATHLETICS

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wake Forest, N. C., Nov. 24.—The first class game of basketball of the season was played last night between the Lawyers and Meds, the Lawyers winning by the score of 17 to 9. It was an exciting game from start to last, although it was evident that the Lawyers had the Meds outclassed. A. Hall played a fine game for the Lawyers, pitching five goals. The line up was as follows: Lawyers, L. C. Williams, center; Ashcraft and Hall, forwards; Mayberry and White, guards. Meds, Williams, E. J., center; Tyner and Davis, forwards; Hipps and McLendon, guards.

The annual Junior-Sophomore debate was pulled off Friday night. The subject was, "Resolved, That all corporations engaging in inter-State commerce should be required to take out a Federal charter." Good speeches were made on both sides, although W. W. Walker, the first speaker for the negative, delivered the popular speech of the evening. His argument was clear and convincing. He used the District of Columbia as an example of where the Federal government had failed to remedy the evils of the corporations, and said that if it failed to use the one talent how could it be given control of chartering all corporations doing inter-State commerce. The judges rendered their decision in favor of the affirmative by a vote of two to one, but it was not a popular decision by any means.

Frank Thompson has been putting the football squad through some secret practice all week, getting them ready for the Thanksgiving game, which will be played in Charlotte with Davidson. A special rate has been secured from the Seaboard Railway for the students, and quite a number of them intend to go. The glee club and orchestra will go to Charlotte on the same trip and give a concert in Charlotte on Thanksgiving night.

Electric Light and Water Plans Proving Inadequate—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Nov. 25.—When yesterday at noon the first juice was turned on the new primary line from the municipal electric plant to the State school for the feeble minded here, the city began the fulfillment of another of the obligations which was stipulated in inducing the State to locate the institution here. The school becomes the first free patron of the system, and will continue to draw current gratis for several years. As yet the only use made of the new line is the lighting of the superintendent's office and residence. When the school begins operations early in the coming year, however, about 600 lights will be supplied over the wire, and the strain on the city plant, already overloaded, will be so much greater that an increase in its capacity will become an absolute necessity.

Another serious proposition which faces the municipality now is water shortage. A new well which was recently completed at the Caswell Cotton Mills in the western end of the city has detracted from the natural flow of the six bores at the pumping station to the extent of 15 gallons per minute. The flow from the private shaft is 80 gallons a minute, and since its completion the flow from the city's wells has fallen from 35 to 20. An air compressor extracts about 70 gallons per minute from the wells, and about 35 gallons are secured from an auxiliary station in East Kinston. Another well begun in East Kinston several months ago is being sunk with difficulty, with no prospect of its early completion, and it is said that in the event of the air compressor at the main station getting out of working condition the city would face a water famine. Hardly able to keep the standpipe filled as it is, a five-hours drain for fire or other exigency would see the system completely incapacitated.

Mr. G. V. Cowper, of the Kinston bar, lectured in the Episcopal church at Ayden yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mr. Cowper, who has entertained large audiences in different parts of the State with his discourse on the same subject, spoke on "Universal Peace."

A resident of East Caswell street here has discovered a new use for fly paper. Setting a couple of sheets of the standard article known as tanglefoot, in a room where the temperature was sufficiently warm to keep the glue moist, he was surprised yesterday morning to find that he had trapped two mice, both of which were securely fastened to the stuff.

A. & M. AFFAIRS.

Annual Competitive Drill—Thanksgiving at the College—Notes.

West Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 25.—The annual competitive drill between the companies composing the A. & M. battalion, was held on the parade grounds Monday.

The second regular number on the Lyceum Course programme was held Saturday night in Pullen Hall, and was greatly enjoyed by the students. The entertainment was given by the Crescent Concert Company, composed of a quartette of ladies who presented many pleasing vocal and instrumental selections.

At a meeting of the Junior Class to elect a business manager and editor-in-chief of the 1914 class Agromeck, so that they can confer with the business manager and editor-in-chief of the annual being gotten up by the present Senior Class, and thereby insure the success of the annual each year, the following were elected: Business manager, J. F. Schenck, Jr., of Shelby; editor-in-chief, K. M. Fetzer, of Concord, N. C.

The regular Thanksgiving holidays will begin Wednesday afternon and continue until Friday afternoon. The majority of students will take the special train to Norfolk to attend the annual football game, while a few will go home.

On Saturday, November 30th, a party of the Senior Agricultural class will leave for Chicago, to attend the International Live Stock shows which is held during the first week in December. This party will be in charge of Prof. McNutt, head of the Department of Animal Husbandry.

Prof. Satterfield, head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering, will take a party of Mechanical Juniors and Seniors to Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News, where they will spend a couple of days after Thanksgiving on an inspection trip through the navy yards, the Newport News Shipbuilding and dry dock plant and many other large plants of interest.

At a meeting of the members of the upper classes Wednesday after chapel, it was decided that the Seniors should select a suitable cap to be worn at all times by the members of the Freshman Class. The cap selected consisted of purple and old gold which are the Freshman class colors, and the order has been placed for a supply of these caps.

HOOKWORM IN MOUNTAINS

What Is Being Done to Stamp It Out In Buncombe

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 25.—Dr. Leonard and Mr. Tuttle, of the State health department, are at the court house today making examinations for hookworm, having been engaged in this work in the county during the past six weeks, spending one day of each week at a different place. Dr. Leonard stated this morning that he though they had made or would have made by this afternoon at least 2,000 examinatins, and he thought that the infection would run as high as 15 or 18 per cent.

The people are coming more and more to have their children examined and during the past two weeks the examiners have had about all they can do. At Fairview Friday they made 290 examinations, which showed an infection of about 19 per cent. They examined 100 children at Black Mountain yesterday and found the infection to be 26 per cent.

The places visited each week during the stay of the examiners in the county are: Asheville, Weaverville, Black Mountain, Democrat, Fairview and Swannanoa.

ROCKY MOUNT READY.

Wants to Play Baseball in Any Company to be Organized.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Nov. 25—Rocky Mount is ready to play baseball in any organized league in North Carolina and on terms most acceptable to the majority, this decision having been reached at a meeting of the former baseball moguls of this city, who express a confidence and a willingness to vouch for Rocky Mount. There has been some talk of this city sending a representative to Charlotte next month when there is to be a meeting of the towns composing the Carolina Circuit and other North Carolina cities that have been invited, when there will be made an effort to start an all-North Carolina circuit. This circuit, owing to geographical location, is not looked to with much favor since the jumps would possibly be the length of the State. However, in their anxiety for baseball Rocky Mount might be one of the towns to bid. The money this year as it has been in the past several years, is not the object with Rocky Mount fans and it takes very little baseball talk for a thousand dollar response from Rocky Mount fans. The trouble has been that there were not four or six other towns that wanted baseball anywhere hereabouts.

There is considerable agitation here over starting anew the old Eastern Carolina League and an investigation finds that there are two other towns in Eastern Carolina that can be counted upon, Goldsboro and Newbern. Rocky Mount makes three of a proposed circuit of four or six clubs, and when the former local president was seen this morning he declared that he would be authority for the statement that Rocky Mount was willing to attend a meeting of baseball leaders to be held anywhere and at any time that might be designated, and while preferring $1,200 or $1,000 salary limit and a season of about 72 games, that Rocky Mount could be counted upon to come in on terms most aceptable to the majority.

With Newbern and Goldsboro already anxious for baseball, it leaves four of the six towns that formerly held franchises in the old circuit untouched and many are of the opinion that with a little publicity that interest might be revived in at least one if not three of them. The former holders of franchises not already mentioned were Raleigh, Wilmington, Wilson and Fayetteville. If there might be no response from any of these towns there is a wealth of others that would be good baseball towns geographically located with advantage for such a circuit as has been contemplated for Eastern Carolina and they include Kinston, Tarboro and Washington, who were among the first to hold franchises in an Eastern Carolina league in the earlier nineteen hundreds. Greenville had a sporting fraternity that some two years ago supported a team in an independent league. Elizabeth City cared ably for a franchise in the Tidewater League of years past. In the last part of the nineties Durham cared for a team in an all-Carolina circuit and it appears to many that it was about time that interest there was revived to an extent to make a ready show of cash for the support of a team. Others that might take care of a berth in an Eastern Carolina circuit might include Henderson or Weldon.

DIES FOR HIS CHILDREN.

Father Suicides so Little Ones Might Get Insurance Money.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 25.—Sacrifices for the family and remorse because he could not make still further sacrifices, is believed to have led H. W. Fitch, local street car conductor, to kill himself either today or last night so that his two children might have his life insurance at once. Fitch's lawyers today received a letter from him which ended by saying: "I'm going to wind my little ball up and get off this old world."

One year ago Fitch gave of his own blood in a fruitless effort to save his wife's life. Relatives say that he has been weak and worried ever since. Recently he purchased a lot on which to build a house for his two young children, Charles and Anna, who lived with relatives in Lake City, S. C.

CRITICAL TIME OF WOMAN'S LIFE

From 40 to 50 Years of Age. How It May Be Passed in Safety.

Odd, Va.:—"I am enjoying better health than I have for 20 years, and I believe I can safely say now that I am a well woman. I was reared on a farm and had all kinds of heavy work to do which caused the troubles that came on me later. For five years during the Change of Life I was not able to lift a pail of water. I had hemorrhages which would last for weeks and I was not able to sit up in bed. I suffered a great deal with my back and was so nervous I could scarcely sleep at night, and I did not do any housework for three years.

"Now I can do as much work as any woman of my age in the county, thanks to the benefit I have received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I recommend your remedies to all suffering women."—Mrs. MARTHA L. HOLLOWAY, Odd, Va.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. We know of no other medicine which has such a record of success as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for woman's ills.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Start the Day Warm With a PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

SLEEPING with the windows open is a "first aid" to health and beauty. But it makes getting up in the morning a chilly ordeal.

With a Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater you dress in comfort on the coldest day.

A touch of a match, and the Perfection is aglow in a minute. Later, you can carry it to any other room, and breakfast, read or sew in comfort.

In fact, a Perfection Heater is just as good as a fire, and much cleaner and more convenient.

It is a handsome heater, too. Ask your dealer to show you a Perfection, or write for descriptive catalogue.

THE MORNING STAR

WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC.,
Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carrier in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business, without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Mr. Carnegie now causes many men to regret that they are not ex-Presidents.

If you got beat in the last election, wrap up your sore toe and join the procession of the majority.

If the Turks had ruled wisely and humanely they would not be facing an enemy as inexorable as fate.

People in this country are like the Balkan allies because they are making preparations to gobble Turkey.

It is announced that "Col. Roosevelt will drop politicis for awhile." If he wants to pay expenses that's what he had better do.

A scientist says a man partakes of the nature of what he eats. The New York gunmen who squealed had no doubt been addicted to pork.

"What does the future hold for the Republican party?" inquiries an esteemed G. O. P. contemporary. At this distance it looks like a sponge.

A Kansas girl, who was recently married to a man named Liedwell, is suing for divorce. Probably he never lied well enough to keep from getting caught.

Recognizing the fact that they are about down and out, the Turks might have known that a man who wears bloomers can't expect t win against a fellow who wears pants.

A woman suffrage Congressman got elected by seven majority. He got through with a tight squeeze and he owes everything to his lady friends for hanging on to him.

If every property owner were to return his property at its proper value, it would reduce the tax rate at least one-half. Low assessments logically mean higher taxes.

The Hon. Mr. Bowdler, Democrat, finally got the seat in Congress held by the Hon. Nick Longworth, son-in-law of Ex-President Roosevelt. The father-in-law joke has been played on Mr. Longworth.

If a man has money he is taxed dollar for dollar, but if his holdings happen to be in real estate he can get it on the tax books anywhere from 40 to 60 per cent. of its actual value.—Durham Herald.

Governor Wilson ought to be informed, and it is done herewith, that he would make a huge hit with a militant minority of Tar Heel voters by appointing General A. Jackson to something juicy.—Columbia State.

Man takes the initiative without the referendum and his wife never hesitates to exercise her privilege of the recall. Men think they can "come back" and they do—only to hang up their hat and stay at home.

Women are to wear vests and cutaway coast like those worn by men. There is nothing to keep them from wearing pants, but as they can't have whiskers they can only look like a boy dressed up for Sunday School.

The pie counter won't look so measley to Democrats when they are informed that President Wilson will have the distribution of offices valued in salaries at $30,000,000 a year. The Democratic victory looks bigger every day.

Turkey has appealed to the King of Italy to intervene with the Balkan powers with a view to preserving the dignity of the Ottoman empire. Our idea of it is that Turkey is welcome to her dignity just so she has left very little territory upon which to display it.

GIVE WILSON THE REINS.

Woodrow Wilson has been elected President of the United States because the voters had confidence in his ability to restore the government to the people. His plan to do it is by easy stages and the Baltimore platform is his authority for doing it according to a method to be worked out in such a gradual way as not to disturb business or revolutionize our industrial system. If Wilson is followed and the Baltimore method is faithfully carried out, privilege can be gradually eliminated from the tariff and eventually the people will find their government in copartnership with them instead of in copartnership with special interests.

Governor Wilson thoroughly understands the science and principles of popular government. He understands tariff making. He has studied the tariff question all his life and he has come to conclusions about it thoroughly in accord with Democratic principles. His solution of that problem will be in the interest of the government and the people, and those who trust him and follow him in a safe and sane course will witness the complete triumph of Democratic administration. It matters not whether he has had any actual experience at tariff making, it will be found that it is not experience but knowledge and patriotism that will have more to do with a proper solution of the tariff question than will theories on the one hand and the privilege idea on the other. The safety of the Democratic party depends upon steering away from the wildcats on the one hand and the hyenas on the other, and Wilson can be trusted to do that. If Wilson can have the loyal support of his party he will steer it away from the rocks, otherwise two years from now we will have a Democratic President with a Republican Congress on his hands.

Wilson's position on the tariff is that of an American, and the evidence of the fact that he wants to work out a proper solution of the tariff and trust questions in the interest of the people and the country is that he is a Democrat. His speeches and declarations on the tariff during the last campaign, and an article on that subject written by him for the American Review of Reviews in 1909, indicate the soundness of his views, and it only remains that his methods be adopted to assure the future of the Democracy. We want to see his methods adopted because we want to see the Democracy kept in jower two years from now, four years from now, and many years from now. The party has a wise leader to follow, and as he is under no obligation to any interest but that of the people that leader can be followed with confidence and safety by the Democracy and be trusted by all patriotic Americans.

There are influences at work to discredit Woodrow Wilson's administration before it begins. It is not difficult to observe whence comes that effort. It comes from the entrenched cohorts of privilege, and we must admit that it is backed by several millions of voters in this country. From that source comes constant distrust in the Democratic party, just as if the Democratic party is not as American and as patriotic as any party in this country. We know it is more American and more patriotic than the party which has permitted special interests to levy tribute upon the people. With its Americanism and its patriotism, the Democratic party's only need is wisdom in its purpose to restore the government to the people. That is its aim, but how about its methods? Wilson has the methods and the party must have the wisdom to follow his safe and statesmanlike leadership.

Interests which hope to discredit Wilson and Democracy are seizing onto the Hon. Wiliam J. Bryan as the bogeyman with which to frighten the large element which pretend to mistrust and fear the Nebraskan. This country ought to understand Mr. Bryan by this time. He is one of the finest and cleanest characters who ever appeared before the American public. Mr. Bryan is honest and patriotic and several million men in this country firmly believe that. As strong as he is with the people, he has more powerful enemies than any public man in America. Those powerful enemies are hammering the incoming Democratic administration over the head of Col. Bryan. They are pretending to be afraid that he will be Secretary of State in Wilson's cabinet and that he will dominate the administration. Nobody is prepared to deny Col. Bryan's power in this country. Nobody can dispute the great influence which he exerted in bringing about the nomination of the Democracy's strongest man for the Presidency. Many believe he brought about the nomination of Wilson in an effort to get the nomination for himself. Whether he did or not, his powerful enemies use him as a bogey to make the country afraid of Woodrow Wilson and the Democracy. These interests are doing their best to cloud the Wilson administration with the shadow of Bryan. Col. Bryan's magnificent character counts for nothing in the face of either pretended or sincere fear of his methods and his aptitude for wrecking the party. Whatever it is, we find the abie New York Journal of Commerce, in an editorial on "Bryan and the Democracy" concluding in this manner:

"Would anything that could be done with him or for him keep the peace within the party, or would it make for division and failure? The best thing that Bryan can do for his party and for the country is to efface himself from the political map and retire to Nebraska, to pursue his favorite calling of preacher of doctrines in which he fervently believes and upon which he cannot keep silent, and leave action to others. Unless he does that or shows himself more modest and complacent with wiser men, President Wilson will have trouble on his hands from the start; and if there should be a division in Congress between Bryanites and men of sense, the opportunity of the party will be wrecked beyond recovery until the 'hoodoo' disappears. If Bryan should prove assertive at Washington President Wilson's wisdom, skill and patience will be put to a severe test, but there will be only one thing to do to save his administration, and that is to take the intractable bull by the horns and reduce him to subjection or break his political neck. There will be important problems of finance and economics to deal with in the next four years, and that is a china shop from which Bryan should be excluded at all hazards."

The Journal of Commerce is an independent commercial paper and it is the greatest one in this or any other country. Its strong editorials show that it is Democratic in principle and we lay great store by its technical and scientific analysis of questions, governmental, industrial and social. We consider it the ablest paper in this country, but is it correct in its estimate of Col. Bryan as a factor destructive of party harmony and sane government? We believe Col. Bryan has committed some of the greatest errors ever made by a politician, or a public man as we prefer to call him, but we are not willing to admit that a man of the integrity and patriotism of Bryan would wilfully wreck his party or injure the country.

The country knows the great obligation under which Wilson has been placed to Col. Bryan. We don't know whether Bryan either desires or expects anything at the hands of Wilson, but if the new President acknowledges his great obligation to Bryan and takes him as one of his advisers, we believe the country ought to suspend judgment on Bryan till his statesmanship is tried under obligations to the President and his party. We know the new President naturally will feel his obligation to Col. Bryan and the country ought to accept the Nebraskan in whatever capacity he is willing to serve. As for Wilson, we know he will accept Col. Bryan's good offices, and under any circumstances it will be Woodrow Wilson who is going to be President. Col. Bryan and the Democratic party can make the most of it by giving Wilson the reins. The country will have the ablest President it has ever had and he is too strong to be dominated by any member of his cabinet. Woodrow Wilson will be President Wilson.

STENOGRAPHY IN TWO WEEKS.

A text book with the above title has for its author Mr. Dwight McEwen, a young Wilmingtonian who is the originator of a new stenographic system that will gain hi mrenown. His production marks him as a genius, and, as for that, we have known him some time as a young man of fine intelligence and noteworthy capabilities.

For a copy of this beek The Star is under obligations to the Frederick A. Stokes Company, 443-449 Fourth Avenue, New York, one of the leading bublishing houses of this country. These experienced publishers, doubtless after consulting expert stenographers, paid Mr. McEwen the compliment of publishing his work on a royalty basis. That alone is an endorsement of its high merit, for the Stokes Company is a concern of long established reputation and ripe experience. Their publication business is done under the auspices of men noted for their ability and learning, and their assuming the expense and responsibility of the publication of "Stenography in Two Weeks" is a voucher which will be readily accepted all over this country.

As set forth in the foreword "Stenography in Two Weeks" is the "simplest system in existence for self-instruction or for school use." It is a neat book of 47 pages, and the context is a clear and comprehensible exposition of Mr. McEwen's new method. We took the pains to examine the system, and we find it one of marvelous simplicity and easiness of application. In his textbook, Mr. McEwen, the author, first leads the learner through a character demonstration of the vowels, and consonants, and by easy and quick stages he introduces the beginner to his exemplification of the prefixes and suffixes. His idea has been to eliminate as far as possible all confusing rules and exceptions. He has carried out that principle so skilfully that a leaner can understand and write according to his method of stenography after a study of two weeks. However, in order to avoid confusion of different stenographic methods with his new and simplest of methods, learners should avoid other systems altogether. The price of "Stenography in Two Weeks" will be 75 cents.

OUR PROGRESS HAS A MEANING

Progress in North Carolina has a meaning to it. Every section of North Carolina is making marvelous progress, so no section of the State need be jealous of the other. Rather, every quarter of the State has a reason to rejoice in common that progress in North Carolina is general. From the sea to the mountains comes the news of big developments, and while we know eastern North Carolina is making great strides, this from the North Carolina Times, published at Henderson, indicates the continuous development of the mountain section:

"Pittsburg capitalists have paid almost half a million dollars for Toxaway waterpower. They have invested their money because they know the Transcontinental Railroad is to be built. These two developments mean industries. Six million dollars to be spent in development projects in western North Carolina in the next two years. Hendersonville will get hers. Appalachian Power Company to start work, the street car system to be extended, the Freize mills to double their capacity, George W. Vanderbilt to invest more money here, and E. Lewis pays $12,000 for Main street property that a couple of years ago was a wooded lot."

The above is of more than usual interest to Wilmington and tidal North Carolina. If the Pittsburg parties are investing because they are certain of the construction of Col. Jones' Transcontinental Railroad, it means that Wilmington is to have a direct western connection. In passing through the mountain section the Transcontinental will tap a country of great resources in power for manufacturing, while that portion of the State has possibilities for agriculture, fruit growing, etc. In the east the Transcontinental will pass through the finest agricultural region on the South Atlantic, and finally will reach the Atlantic ocean where the line will have a commercial advantage that will make it one of the most important railroads of the South. North Carolina's great and varied resources are the meaning of the State's steady progress. Her matchless resources are being recognized and converted into assets.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The First City Troop of Newark, N. J., has been officially notified that it is to have the honor of acting as special escort to Governor Woodrow Wilson on the occasion of his inauguration as President of the United States on March 4 next. This troop has participated in all inaugurations that have taken place since its inauguration. Their soldiery bearing and elaborate dress uniform have attracted particular attention. It is also planned that the next session of New Jersey's Legislature shall appropriate $25,000 to cover the cost of transporting a National Guard contingent from that State to the inauguration.—Chester (Pa.) DIXIE FIRE BUILDING.

Seven-Story Structure in Greensboro. Auto Stolen—Another Thief.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 25.—Arrangements have been made for the early beginning of construction work on the two-story addition to the already handsome granite front five-story home office building of the Dixie Fire Insurance Company, making the structure a handsome seven-story one. The seventh story is to have a balcony running the length of the Elm street front and also balconies on the Sycamore street side. This floor is to be occupied by the Merchants & Manufacturers' Club, which, too, will enjoy the privileges of a modern and spacious roof garden.

Local police are on the lookout this morning for a new six cylinder, five-passenger Mitchell automobile stolen in Raleigh Sunday night, according to a telegram received from the chief of police of that city. It was the property of J. B. Turner, of Raleigh. The telegram stated that $100 reward was offered for its recovery.

Lloyd Sorrell, a young man who came here several weeks ago from Durham to follow his trade as a brick layer, is held by the police on a charge of larceny. Sorrell had been boarding at a Washington street home, leaving three days ago. With him went a new suit of a fellow boarder and other articles of clothing. Following the suspicion of the boarders, police searched the room at the new home of Sorrell and found in his trunk the clothing which had been described and which it was alleged Sorrell carried off. It was said that just before his departure Sorrell attempted to buy the suit from his fellow boarder, but that the trade was not made and that upon leaving he carried the suit along without leaving behind even pay, thanks or an explanation.

Why French Women Always Look Young

("Aurilla," in Society World.)

In France mothers and daughters look like sisters. I tried to find out how the women were able to retain their youthful looks until long past middle age. I learned that they were much given to the use of mercolized wax. This wax possesses a remarkable absorbent property, which quickly removes the fine particles of cuticle which are constantly dying and which are the immediate cause of an old-looking complexion. Thus the livelier, healthier, younger skin beneath is given a chance to breathe and show itself. I've tried this treatment myself. In less than two weeks my complexion has become as clear, soft and beautiful as a young girl's. Just one ounce of mercolized wax (all American druggists have it) did the work. The wax is put on nights like cold cream and washed off mornings.

Another valuable secret I learned from the French was how to quickly remove wrinkles. One ounce of powdered saxolite dissolved in a half pint witch hazel, makes a marvelously effective astringent lotion. The face should be bathed in this daily until the deepest lines have entirely disappeared.

THREE JUMP FROM TRAIN.

Negroes Who Were Eloping, Come to Grief at Reidsville, N. C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 25.—A negro man and a negro woman, likewise a three-year-old negro child, were injured, the child probably fatally, by jumping from a southbound train at Reidsville Sunday afternoon. It was reported here where the woman and child were brought for treatment at a local hospital that as the train was entering the station the man, carrying the child in his arms and followed by the woman, went to the rear of the coach and while the train was running probably 15 to 20 miles, and jumped off. They were picked up by members of the train crew; the man was locked up in Reidsville jail, while the woman and the child were brought here. The man, Bird Fisher, is charged with eloping with the woman, Hattie Lyons, who had with her her three-year-old child. All the negroes are from Yanceyville, Caswell county. The Lyon woman denies that she was eloping with Fisher, saying that she was given in care of the man by her husband.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC GOOD.

Splendid Barometer of Trade in Piedmont North Carolina.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 25.—Railroad and freight traffic is usually a splendid barometer of the business and prosperity of the section in which the railroad operates and in accepting such a statement as a fact one must admit that the Piedmont section of North Carolina is just now going through a great period of prosperity and business expansion. At the Southern Railway general offices here, both for this division and district, the statement is made that during the 30-day period from October 10th to November 10th, the Southern handled more freight over this division than in any other similar period in the history of the road. Freight crews have worked night and day in many instances, every engine on the division has put in full time, and yet it is admitted that the facilities have not been adequate for handling the tremendous volume of business which has poured in over the tributary lines touching at Salisbury, High Point and Greensboro and the main line traffic.

GOLD DUST
removes grease quickly from pots and pans

Cleaning the pots and pans and kettles is usually a most disagreeable piece of work, but like everything else there is an easier way to do it, if one knows how.

As soon as the food is removed, pour in water and dissolve in it Gold Dust in the proportion of one tablespoonful to a gallon of water.

Leave to soak while washing the dishes, then pour off the water and fill with clean suds made in the same way. If particles of food still adhere to the inside of the utensils, use potrings for removing them.

You can buy a large package of Gold Dust for 5 cents.

GETS ADDITIONAL SENTENCE

John Holland, a Negro Convict, Gets 18 Months for Complicity In Attempted Robbery—Other Cases Yesterday

John Holland, a negro convict, was the principal defendant in the Recorder's court yesterday morning. His present term of two years on the roads does not expire until March 1st, of next year, and at that time he will begin a new sentence of 18 months imposed by the Recorder yesterday morning for complicity in an attempt to rob Thomas Brown, a colored hackman, just beyond Carolina Heights, on the Princess street road, last Sunday night was two weeks ago. Holland was with B. J. Smith, a guard, who has left for parts unknown to the county authorities.

With the conviction and sentence of Holland on the attempted robbery charge, Ernest Rhodes, colored, who was tried and convicted about ten days ago of the same offense, was released. Rhodes was convicted upon the testimony of the hackman, who stated at that time that he positively identified Rhodes as the negro who was with the white man at the time an attempt was made to rob him. However, yesterday morning he was not so positive that Rhodes was the man. He said that the reason he had Rhodes arrested and charged with the offense was because he acted suspicious when he met him at the union station a few nights after the occurrence.

Holland and the guard Smith were out late on the Sunday night of the robbery, which occurred within a short distance of the convict camp. Night Guard Williams, of the camp, testified yesterday that he heard calls for help and several reports of a revolver and sent one of the guards and a prisoner out to investigate. They had not been gone long until Smith and Holland came in, both rather much excited. The next day it developed that the trousers worn by Smith and owned by another guard had three bullet holes in the legs. Holland was questioned by Superintendent James, of the convict camp, and made a statement which caused him to get the additional 18 months on the roads. He said that he and Guard Smith hailed the hackman in Brooklyn and asked to be taken to the convict camp; that Smith gave him (Holland) a $1 bill and told him to try to pass it off on the hackman for $5 and if he could not they would not give him anything; that when they reached a point near a bridge just beyond Carolina Heights the hackman was told to stop as they had gone as far as they cared to go; that when the hackman said he could not change the money the guard cursed him and told him that they did not intend to pay him anyway. Holland said that the guard advanced toward the hackman and the latter took his pistol from under the front seat of the carriage and fired three times.

Brown testified that the negro struck him twice in the forehead with a pair of knucks and that an effort was made to rob him.

Holland did not deny the charge at the trial yesterday, but rather confirmed the statement he is said to have made at the convict camp. In his cross-examination of the witnesses, Brown especially, he showed that he remembered the affair in every detail. He made an effort to place most of the blame on the guard, however.

A case against John Law, charged with assault on a female, Alma Law, his daughter, was continued until today. Tom Hay, colored, paid $5 and costs for disorderly conduct. Nathaniel Russ, colored, submitted to two charges — assault with deadly weapon on Joe Bowman, and carrying a concealed weapon. He was fined $10 and costs in the first named case and $25 and costs in the last named. R. T. Blake and Clarence Hewlett, young white men, were taxed with the costs for an affray. John McNeil, was required to pay the costs for obstructing the sidewalk. Winslow Robins submitted to firing a pistol in the city limits and was required to pay the costs. Ella McDonald was fined $10 and costs for carrying a concealed weapon. Henry Mathews and Titus Dick each paid $5 and costs for gambling. Beulah Pickett was assessed $5 and costs for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Carl Bryant paid the costs for riding a bicycle without a light. R. L. Petty was assessed $10 and costs for drunkenness and disorderly conduct and $10 and costs for resisting an officer. John Newkirk submitted to a charge of running a motor vehicle without a number and paid the costs. Jim Edwards and C. H. Price each paid $10 and costs for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, and G. C. Hand paid $5 and costs for a similar offense.

JURY CONTINUES PROBING

Negro Who Was Murdered Last Week Identified As Richard Blount—Theory That He Had Been Gambling Strengthened

With the determination that augurs success to clear up the mystery surrounding the murder of a negro man found beside railroad tracks of the Newbern branch of the A. C. L., just east of the city, last Tuesday morning, the coroner's jury continues its investigation. By shrewd detective work on the part of members of the jury, aided by the masterly cross-examination of witnesses by Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau, information is picked up here and there that now appears will not only establish the identity of the dead negro but lead to the apprehension of his murderer or murderers.

The jury was in session for over three hours last night and a number of witnesses were examined. The evidence adduced last night tends to show that the negro found beside the railroad track with his throat cut from ear to ear was Richard Blount, a negro known to always carry a considerable sum of money about his person, and strengthens the theory held by members of the coroner's jury from the first that the negro had been gambling all night and was killed by those with whom he had been playing. The jury will meet again this afternoon and continue its investigation.

The first witness last night was Ellen Jones, colored, who conducts a restaurant on North Water street. She was positive that the body of the negro she saw at the undertaker's last week was that of Richard Blount, whom she had known well for the last two or three years. She said that while he had not been in her place in about three months she had seen him every morning about 6 or 7 o'clock going to his work up to last Tuesday morning, when the horrible murder was committed. She saw him on Monday morning preceding as usual. She identified the hat found near the scene of the tragedy as being very much like the one worn by Richard Blount when she last saw him yesterday was a week ago. She was also shown a picture of the dead negro and said she was positive in her identification. She told the jury that a negro woman by the name of Elbina was in her place one night last week and said that from the description of the dead man he was a negro who was always known to have $80 or $100 on his person and a handsome gold watch and that she had heard a slim, tall, dark man say he was going to rob him of everything he had.

Elbina Burnett, the woman referred to, was called later and she denied having heard anybody say anything about robbing Blount, whom she did not know personally. She admitted having been in conversation with several women and men some time ago about the negro Blount, referring particularly to the amount of money carried by him and to his gold watch.

Harry Williams, the negro who was arrested Saturday and held in jail as a witness, did not appear to know very much about anything and it was a very difficult matter for him to tell the same tale twice. Members of the jury thought that he might be induced to tell more after another night in jail and he was remanded to the institution. In the meantime the jury will endeavor to find out where the negro was on the night preceding the murder.

Preston Watson, colored, who has been at work on the new building being erected on Front street, between Grace and Walnut, testified that the body he saw at the undertaker's was that of Richard Blount in his opinion. Blount worked with the witness on the building and was at work on Monday preceding the murder, but has not been seen since. On Monday Blount showed the witness a wad of money and said he had won $26 gambling the day before just beyond the Newbern trestle and that there was going to be a swell game that night and he expected to win $25 or $30 more. Before leaving the work at 5:30 that afternoon Blount asked the witness to bring him his breakfast the next morning and he would pay him for it. Preston testified that he had his wife prepare the breakfast and he brought it to the building but Blount did not turn up. The witness said that on Monday Blount said he had $80 and he expected to will it to Julia Franks, with whom he is said to have been living in Straus' alley. The hat that was found at the place where the murder was committed was shown to the witness and he said that it looked very much like the one worn by Blount.

Julia Franks testified that she did not know Blount and had never heard of him before. She looked at the picture of the dead man and asserted that she had never seen anybody like him.

Plainclothesman Frank George testified that as soon as he saw the body of the negro he knew that he had seen the man in life somewhere and that after talking with Julia Franks he remembered having seen him at the home of Julia Franks about three weeks ago when he was there looking for another negro. He said that he and Plainclothesman Jacobs had seen the man in Brooklyn many times, but did not know his name

At 11:20 o'clock the jury took a recess until this afternoon.

WINDOW DEDICATED

Impressive Service Held at St. John's Church Sunday

The handsome memorial window placed in St. John's Episcopal church by the Wilmington Lodge of Elks in memory of Rev. Dr. James Carmichael, many years active rector and at the time of his death a few months ago rector emeritus of St. John's church, was dedicated with appropriate service Sunday morning. Dr. Carmichael was a prominent member of the Elks' order and for many years was chaplain of the Wilmington lodge.

Members of Wilmington Lodge of Elks attended the service in a body. The service was very impressive. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. Wm. E. Cox, the rector. In course of his sermon he read the following letter from Mr. T. E. Wallace, Exalted Ruler of the local lodge of Elks:

"Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 21st, 1912.

"To the Rector, Vestry and Members of St. John's Church, Wilmington, North Carolina.

"Rev. Sir and Gentlemen:

"It is my privilege as Exalted Ruler of the Wilmington Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, on behalf of the lodge and its members, to present to Saint John's church the memorial window now placed and dedicated to the memory of Dr. James Carmichael, lately the rector emeritus of your church and the chaplain of our lodge, and by the members of each so deeply and affectionately beloved.

"It is peculiarly appropriate that the design of this window should typify charity, for no man, in speech and act, more beautifully exemplified the real essence of its spirit. Never harsh in opinion, save in criticism of oppression, of the weak by the strong, tenderly overlooking faults when seeking to uplift the fallen; and responsive to his fellowman in happiness and in sorrow, sharing with him in each the wealth of his generous appreciation and sympathy. Dr. Carmichael was to the members of this lodge peculiarly endeared, his precept and example an inspiration, his association and comradeship a delight, and, because we loved him and honored him, we present this memorial to the church, which he served so long and faithfully, asking its acceptance from this lodge as a memorial to one greatly esteemed as man and minister.

"May the sunbeams falling upon these window panes reflect in the vision of the worshippers in his church the spirit of his charity and illumine their souls with the light of his unforgotten godly life as it ever beckons them 'Nearer, My God to Thee!'

"With sentiments of reverence for your lamented clergyman and our lamented chaplain, I subscribe myself,

"Sincerely,

"T. E. WALLACE,

"Exalted Ruler, Wilmington Lodge of Elks."

ANNIVERSARY SERMON.

Rev. W. G. Hall Heard in Fine Discourse to Junior Order, U. A. M.

The largest attendance of a fraternal order upon a similar occasion in recent years in Wilmington was that on Sunday evening when Jeff Davis and George Washington councils, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, and the Daughters of Liberty, the ladies' branch of the order, assembled and proceeded in a body to Southside Baptist church for the annual sermon to the order by the pastor, Rev. W. G. Hall, who recently affiliated himself with one of the local councils, and is numbered now as one of the most enthusiastic members of the organization.

Members of the two councils assembled at their hall and proceeded in a body to the church, under the direction of Chief Marshal H. W. Howell, being joined within a block of the house of worship by the Daughters of Liberty. Every available seat in the church was taken and many were turned away. Rev. Mr. Hall preached an unusually strong sermon bearing upon the principles which actuate the order and their connection with the better and Godly life. He was listened to with rapt attention by the large congregation. A very handsome bouquet of flowers was presented to the pastor in behalf of the council by Woodus Kellum, Esq., also an enthusiastic member of the order. A feature of the service was a beautiful and appropriate solo by a special Junior quartette composed of Rev. Mr. Hall, first bass; Mr. J. H. Curtis, second bass; Mr. J. W. Curtis, second tenor, and Mr. T. L. Vaugt, first tenor. Mrs. W. T. Mercer played the accompaniment, the musical programme having been a feature of the fine service.

REV. PAXSON WATTERS PASSES

Retired Episcopal Minister, Native of Wilmington, Died In Charlottesville, Va., Is Buried Here—Services at St. James

The funeral services of the late Rev. S. Paxson Watters, whose death occurred in Charlottesville, Va., on Saturday afternoon were held yesterday at St. James Episcopal church at 3 o'clock. There were present relatives from Wilmington, Washington and South Carolina, and friends of former years when Mr. Watters lived in this section of the State. The services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Milton, D. D., rector of St. James. The pallbearers were: Honorary, Messrs. Eugene S. Martin and Junius Davis; active, Messrs. S. M. Boatwright, Junius Davis, Jr., Waddell Watters, Geo. W. Kidder, Jr., J. P. Watters, of Wilmington, and Mr. John Wood, of Spartanburg, S. C. The interement was in the family plat in Oakdale cemetery.

Rev. Samuel Paxson Watters was the son of Dr. John W. Watters, of Wilmington, who died a number of years ago. He was a graduate of the University of North Carolina, afterwards living in Mississippi. At the outbreak of the Civil War he volunteered and served in the Confederate cavalry throughout the struggle. Later he removed to New York where he studied for the ministry. After ordination he was for a time at Newport, R. I., following which he became rector of the church at Morganton, N. C., going from thence to Culpepper, Va. From Culpepper, Mr. Watters was called to Appalachicola, Fla. His last charge was at Hillsboro, N. C., which church he served for fifteen years. About one year ago he retired from active life and for some time past had made his home in Charlottesville.

Mr. Watters was married about 1890 while at Culpepper, Va., to Miss Lydia Gates Hansborough, of Albemarle county, Virginia, who survives him. He was connected with many of the older families of Eastern Carolina and has a great number of friends throughout the State who will learn with sorrow of his passing.

ENGAGEMENT CANCELLED

The Litchfield Trio Unable to Appear Here This Season

The subscribers to the Boys' Brigade Lyceum Course will be interested to learn that owing to the serious illness of Mr. Noll Litchfield, who is one member of the famous Litchfield Trio, who were to have appeared here next Friday night, this engagement and all others he had made for this season have been cancelled so that he will not appear in Wilmington this season. This is to be regretted as Mr. Litchfield is one of the most popular entertainers on the lyceum platform and the local management was counting heavily upon him this season.

However, while this is very disappointing the holders of tickets will be pleased to learn that while it is not yet known just the nature of the entertainment which will be substituted, that no expense will be spared to make this substitution even better than the original entertainment would have been if money can secure the attraction which is being sought. This extra expenditure is made possible by the large number of tickets which have been sold this season and the management is glad to spend more than the original amount set aside for this purpose if by doing so the Course can be made better. The nature and date of the next attraction will be known in a few days as correspondence is now being conducted to this end.

Married Sunday Morning.

Mr. William Wright and Miss Annie Rboerts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Roberts, of Wrightsville, were married at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sneeden, at Seagate. Justice G. W. Bornemann performed the ceremony in his usual impressive manner. Mr. and Mrs. Wright will continue to live in this county.

Announcement is made by the Tidewater Power Company that no freight will be accepted for delivery on the suburban line on Thanksgiving Day. Also it is announced that the baseball grounds has been discontinued as a stopping point for the regular suburban cars.

This Home-Made Cough Syrup Will Surprise You

Stops Even Whooping Cough Quickly. A Family Supply at Small Cost.

Here is a home-made remedy that takes hold of a cough instantly, and will usually cure the most stubborn case in 24 hours. This recipe makes a pint—enough for a whole family. You couldn't buy as much or as good ready-made cough syrup for $2.50.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. This keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste—children like it. Braces up the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

You probably know the medical value of pine in treating asthma, bronchitis and other throat troubles, sore lungs, etc. There is nothing better. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this inexpensive remedy have made friends for it in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

VISIT TO FORT CASWELL.

Hon. Fred E. Wheaton Made a Trip to the Mouth of Cape Fear.

Hon. Fred E. Wheaton, of Minneapolis, Minn., Supreme Keeper of Records and Seal of the Knights of Pythias, who was here last Thursday night to attend the big Pythian rally, remained over Friday to take a trip down the historic Cape Fear river as the guest of Mr. J. D. Nutt, Deputy Grand Chancellor. They visited Fort Caswell and Mr. Wheaton had the pleasure of witnessing some of the big guns in practice. Mr. Wheaton was very favorably impressed with Wilmington and the surrounding country visited by him and he commented upon the great possibilities for future development.

He said that he was astonished at the lack of utilization of the water power in North Carolina which he considered ample to turn all the machinery in the United States. The development of the water power is going to add materially to the wealth of North Carolina, in his opinion.

Mr. Wheaton has visited Wilmington before and has many friends here. In fact, he makes friends everywhere he goes. He and Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer and Supreme Master of Exchequer, K. of P., have been intimate friends for many years. Mr. Wheaton expects to return to North Carolina in March, visiting Asheville and Salisbury and possibly a few other points.

Returns From Sad Mission

Mrs. Eliza Rouse, of this city, has returned from Kinston, where she was called some days ago on account of the death of her father, Mr. John W. Burkett, who passed away on November 13th in the 84th year of his age. He was a Confederate veteran, having served throughout the War Between the States. He enlisted April 17th, 1861, in Company C, 27th Regiment, North Carolina Infantry. His company was in command of George F. Whitfield. He was married to Miss Jannie Koonce, of Jones county, in 1857. She preceded her husband to the grave some years ago. The children surviving, besides Mrs. Rouse, are Mr. R. W. Burkett, of Chinquepin; Mr. R. L. Burkett, Cove City, N. C.; Mrs. Susan Jones, Dover, N. C.; Mrs. Mamie E. Hill, Kinston; Mr. J. R. Burkett, Dover. The interment was in the family burying ground near Kinston.

CHARLOTTE LADY INVENTS NEW AND NOVEL PARASOL

The following from Sunday's Atlanta Constitution will be of interest to the ladies of this city and section:

"One of the latest acquistions in the field of women inventors is Miss Beulah Louise Henry, who has invented a parasol of many covers, and one which in its make-up and handle carries a coin case; vanity box and other accessories of woman's toilet.

"Miss Henry resides in Charlotte, N. C., and is a favorite in the social world. She represents two of the oldest families in the State. On her mother's side she is the granddaughter of the late William W. Holden, Governor of North Carolina, and a cousin of Presidents William Henry and Benjamin Harrison. On her father's side she is a direct descendant of Patrick Henry.

"The parasol, which was first exhibited in the largest department store in Charlotte, is described as follows:

"The handle and frame is of coin silver. The handle proper is one of the most exquisitely engraved pieces of work. It is a design of Scotch thistles.

"The important feature of this parasol is the fact that it telescopes until a 40-inch staff is but 21 inches long and can easily be placed in a suit case. The covers are attached to the frame with glove fasteners and can be taken off and others replaced in a moment's time. The linen covers can easily be taken from the frame and laundered.

"The handle is a feature. With all sorts of hidden springs it is in very fact a vanity case. The little mirror with its puff and powder case attracts attention when the hidden spring is touched and the lid opens. Then here are spring coin holders, three of them, for quarters, dimes and nickles. There is also a card case and another compartment.

To add another feature the handle is detachable and with the parasol comes a coin silver chain and knob to which the handle can be attached and hence a vanity case to use without the parasol."

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Among Sunday's guests at The Orton were N. T. Woodward, Acme; J. B. Stanley, Kernersville; H. G. Galloway, Goldsboro; T. M. Arrington, Rocky Mount; Harvey Boney, Rose Hill; A. B. Barnes, Burgaw; W. H. Eaton, Raleigh; Thos. B. Whitted, Charlotte; G. A. Fisher, Salisbury; C. L. Walker, Charlotte.

—Arrivals yesterday at The Southern included W. R. Hammock, J. H. Copell, Florence; A. E. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Blanchard, Miss Bertha Thompson, Burgaw; J. C. Moore, Ivanhoe; J. H. Beck, Sloop Point; W. P. Cassiday, Lumberton; J. F. Cox, Jacksonville, N. C.; J. B. Davis, Rocky Point.

—Among those registered at The Orton yesterday were A. E. Dannenberg, Newbern; W. M. Carter, Charlotte; B. M. McKenzie, Greensboro; R. H. Bouligney, R. S. Ely, Charlotte; C. R. Jordan, Currie; Russell D. Koerner, Charlotte; W. F. Murphy, Wallace; Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Goodman, Town Creek; Mrs. J. M. Williams, Clinton.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The annual report of the health department for the calendar year ending December 31st, 1912, is now being prepared by Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, and his assistants. The work is begun early so that the report can be completed soon after the expiration of the year.

—Willie Council, colored, wanted at Bolton on a charge of stealing a bicycle from another negro, was arrested at Second and Market streets at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning by Officer N. J. Williams, of this city. The negro was taken to Bolton in the afternoon by Plainclothesman Leon George.

—Herbert McClammy, Esq., went over to Jacksonville, N. C., yesterday afternoon in connection with the organization of the Lackawanna Naval Stores Co., of which he is counsel and one of the principal incorporators.

ANNUAL OYSTER ROAST.

Members of Boys' Brigade Had Delightful Outing Last Night.

Last night about 60 members of the Boys' Brigade boarded a chartered car at Front and Princess streets and for the Lighthouse, where they proceeded to stow away about "50 bushels" of some of the finest oysters of which the sound can boast. This is one of the most delightful of the many social events of the year and every one present voted this one of the best trips of this kind which they have ever participated in.

The Brigade has some world-beaters when it comes to eating oysters and last night these broke all previous records and ate until the waiters refused to cater longer to their demands and some would be eating yet but for the fact that the lights were put out, the moon went down and the car started for home, so they were finally persuaded to quit upon the promise of another trip next year when they could finish their repast.

In addition to the oysters there were songs, speeches appropriate to the occasion and other fun indulged in. The only regret expressed was that the occasion ended so soon. This trip was personally conducted by Col. Walker Taylor, who was present to keep order, act as toastmaster, as referee in any dispute that might arise and by his genial good nature to keep everybody happy and pleased. In each of these strenuous offices he succeeded in his usual splendid manner and was voted three cheers by "his boys" to whom, as well as to many others, the Colonel is all that a real man should be in every department of life and upon whose judgment and friendship these young men rely deeply to their profit and happiness.

—Mr. Walter H. Savory, Southern Representative of the American Mergenthaler Linotype Co., spent yesterday in the city on a business trip.

NO MERCURY-NO POTASH
BUT A CERTAIN SAFE CURE

Do you know why so many Specific Blood Poison Victims are also sufferers of stomach trouble or Rheumatism? It is because they have filled their systems with mercury or potash in an effort to cure the blood disorder. These minerals cannot cure Specific Blood Poison; true such treatment will sometimes temporarily remove the outward symptoms and hold the poison in check but as soon as the minerals are left off the disease breaks out again. Any system saturated with mercury or potash is necessarily weakened and loses much of its resistive powers; it is a dangerous treatment and should be left off by any who are using it. There is a way—a certain way—to cure Specific Blood Poison, and that is to cleanse the blood with S. S. S., made entirely of roots, herbs and barks. It is a perfectly safe treatment for any one and is certain in its good results. S. S. S. has been recognized for many years as the greatest of all blood purifiers and the safest of treatments for blood poison. Home Treatment Book and medical advice free. K-r-i-t Value and K-r-i-t Service Mean Profit for Dealer and Owner Alike

K-r-i-t cars are a great "buy."

That statement is good in two directions. It applies to both the dealer and to the ultimate purchaser.

K-r-i-t character and the confidence the public has in K-r-i-t product, gain for the dealer a position in the trade and a prestige that no other car of this class could win for him. His standing is assured. His reputation is made.

The K-r-i-t purchaser enjoys a similar fortune. He gets full value for his money. He is not paying several profits, because all the essential parts of the K-r-i-t are made within the K-r-i-t organization, giving to dealer and buyer the profit that usually goes to the parts manufacturer in the assembled cars.

Therefore, if it's a K-r-i-t the World has come to understand that it is the biggest $900 worth this automobile era has ever known.

The prime factors in this situation are K-r-i-t Character, K-r-i-t Quality and K-r-i-t Success. They build up the dealer's reputation and give confidence to the buyer.

A dealer must be identified with cars of character, else his career is limited. If he expects to stay in business, he must sell cars next year as well as this.

That is why he finds the K-r-i-t his best investment. It gives permanence to his business and ever-increasing profits. It is, therefore, the logical car for you—the only car.

When you select the K-r-i-t you have a great and loyal organization behind you—an organization that backs up every car with a guarantee for a year. The proposition is as stable and as stanch as the car itself.

Moreover, back of the car, back of the purchaser and the dealer, is the K-r-i-t service which thousands of satisfied car owners have tested and proved.

The K-r-i-t motor, clutch and transmission are a unit. Among the new features are a greatly improved oiling system, with a reservoir of a gallon capacity at the bottom of the crank case, and an efficient sight oil feed on the dash.

There are Prest-O-Lite tanks on all models. At the option of the purchaser we will furnish a gas generator and a No. 26 Stewart Speedometer instead of a Prest-O-Lite tank; or for $10 additional a complete electric lighting plant, including five lamps and 100-hour storage battery.

On all models the bright parts are nickel and black enamel.

Other models—"KR" Roadster $900; "KD" Delivery $900; Completely equipped, f.o.b. Detroit.

COTTON UP BUT TURNED EASY EXCITED ADVANCE IN WHEAT SHARP RISE IN CALL MONEY

After Making New High Records for The Season Market Turned Easy And Reacted on Heavy Realizing—Cuose Off

New York, Nov. 25.—After making new high records for the season, during today's early trading, the cotton market turned easier under heavy realizing or selling for a reaction and closed barely steady at a net decline of from 7 to 14 points. The opening was steady, at a decline of 7 points to an advance of 2 points, the near months being lower in sympathy with disappointing cables, while the late months reflected a renewal of Saturday's active buying movement, which had the encouragement of bullish Southern crop and spot advices. Near months quickly shot up in sympathy with the strength which developed during the progress of the call, and within the first few minutes the market sold 8 to 12 points net higher. This advance carried January contracts up to 12.60 or 85.25 per bale above the recent low level, while March sold at 12.63 on covering of shorts, fresh buying for long account, and scattering bull support. Foreign houses, however, were very heavy sellers, with private cables attributing the relative weakness of Liverpool to uneasiness over the European political situation and following rumors that Austrian troops had actually crossed the Servian border, the market turned easier. These rumors were promptly denied, but the market continued very nervous and later sold off sharply under heavy Wall Street offerings, which were believed to reflect an easy stock market, and a sharp advance in call money rates. There were also reports that some of the big spot people were selling March and May, as well as scattering advices from the South, claiming a slightly easier spot basis this afternoon, and, while the market met a good demand on a scale down, last prices were practically the lowest of the day, and some 18 to 20 points under the high level of the morning. Trade interests were reported buyers of the near months, which were relatively steady at the close.

Spot, steady. Middling uplands, 12.80; middling gulf, 13.05.

Cotton futures closed barely steady.

Highest Rate Paid Since Jan. 3rd, 1910, Caused Unsettlement In Stock Market—London Selling Here Was Heavy

New York, Nov. 25.—A 12 per cent. rate for call money, the highest since January 3rd, 1910, caused some unsettlement in stocks today. The advance was ascribed to a variety of causes, including the world-wide tightening of monetary conditions, the Balkan war and the strain upon domestic reserves.

Some local banks called loans, but this move was not general. The high rate yielded slightly when one of the most important institutions offered several million at 6 per cent., in keeping with its fixed policy, but when this supply was exhausted, quotations again mounted to the high figure. Before the close, the rate declined. The failure of American bankers to bid for any part of the South African gold received in London today is thought to be the result of an understanding between local financiers and their European conferees. London selling in this market was another factor contributing to the depression of stocks. It was estimated that London sold 25,000 to 35,000 shares here and that 25,000 shares were sold from the continent.

The award of the arbitration board to the Eastern railway engineers was reflected in the railroad stock market shares, being depressed in the early part of the day to a more marked extent than the industrials. Later in the session, when the flurry in money rates induced some liquidation, the whole list sold off and prices fell from 1 to 3 points below Saturday's close.

Bonds showed heaviness, in connection with stocks. Total sales, par value, $1,350,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales, $37,000 shares.

DECISION IS REACHED.

Arbitrators in Georgia R. R. Strike Will Announce It Today.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 25.—After deliberating all day a decision was reached tonight by the Georgia Railroad strike arbitration board, according to announcement made by Judge William L. Chambers, representing the public on the board.

In executive session the board examined a mass of evidence taken at the hearings which closed last week. No details of the decision will be given until 11 o'clock tomorrow, when Judge Chambers will read the decision publicly.

There was much speculation tonight as to the disposition made by the board in the cases of Conductor J. T. Paschal and Flagman A. M. Morgan, whose dismissal by the Georgia Railroad led to the recent strike. Nothing definite, however, was known.

IT MUST BE TRUE

Wilmington Readers Must Come to That Conclusion.

It is not the telling of a single case in Wilmington, but scores of citizens testify. Endorsement by people you know bears the stamp of truth. The following is one of the public statements made in this locality about Doan's Kidney Pills:

Mrs. J. E. Marshburn, 516 Castle St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I am well pleased with Doan's Kidney Pills, for they have given satisfaction in my case. My back and kidneys were in bad shape and I had dull pains through my loins, together with headaches and kidney weakness. In the morning when I got up, I was tired and languid and had but little strength with which to begin my day's work. After I had taken part of the contents of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Bellamy's Drug Store, I improved and it was not long before my kidneys were restored to their proper working order." (Statement given February 24, 1908.)

A Second Endorsement.

On December 27, 1910, Mrs. Marshburn said: "I value Doan's Kidney Pills as highly as ever and have no hesitation in re-endorsing them. They are certainly a good backache and kidney medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

STILL THEY COME

50 head Good Horses and Mules by express to be put up and sold for the High Dollar, Tuesday, November 26th. Sale commences 11 A. M.. We also have 25 big acclimated draft horses ready to go to work. Will be offered for sale, and we especially invite the business men of the city to come out and see for themselves because the horses are sold at auction is no indication they are common horses. We hitch every horse and if he is not as represented we don't want a dollar of your money, and you can save from $25.00 to $50.00. So you see that we sell 50 in one day, we can afford to sell at a smaller profit. Come Monday or Tuesday A. M. Pick out and work your horse before the sale starts.

Mr. Jewell, of Lexington, Ky., will be here to represent every one of them.

about blowing up work on the Panama canal."

"In April, 1911, shortly before we were arrested, J. J. and J. B. McNamara and myself had a talk in Indianapolis as to the campaign, after blowing up four jobs planned for Detroit," said McManigal.

"J. J. said the McClintic-Marshall Construction Company, a non-union concern, had two years' work on the Panama canal and he wanted me to go there. He said I should go to Panama and promptly enlist as a soldier, as I had already served in the Spanish-American war.

"I did not take much to the Panama idea and told J. J. so, but he insisted he would take it up later. J. B. said at that time he had more work on the Pacific coast. He said he was going back there with an arrangement to set off bombs by touching off an electrical current miles away. He said: 'I'll go out to Los Angeles, undermine the acqueduct and the waterworks, then put bombs at various parts of the city and blow the whole town off the map. The people will think there has been another earthquake similar to the one at San Francisco.'"

McManigal then described his going to Detroit with James B. McNamara to blow up four jobs, and their arrest there, which prevented the "wholesale explosions," which he said were soon to be carried out.

Judge Anderson announced today he would not increase the bonds of defendants other than Hockin and would "pass the motion for the present."

LEAPS FROM 20TH STORY

Thinking She Was Pursued For Dishonorable Purpose

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Possessed with the idea that she was pursued for dishonorable purposes, Miss Maude Van Deusen, 25 years old, leaped from the 20th story of the McCormick building and was crushed to death on the stone paving of an alley at the street level. She jumped from a fire escape nearly 250 feet above the ground. Nearly all her bones were broken. Miss Van Deusen, according to papers found on her person, was a school teacher in Humboldt, N. D. It appeared that she had been seeking a position here and had been obscessed with the idea that she had been in danger from white slavers. She wrote that she had been driven to appeal for protection from Chief of Police McWeeney, to the Federal Department of Justice and to social settlement workers.

She had prepared for her death by pinning across her bosom a strip of white linen which had been stained crimson at either end and on which she had printed in large letters, "Death before dishonor." She had tied around her neck a copy of the New Testament in which she had marked passages in John. She held her handbag in her hand as she jumped and it was picked up near her body. In it was another marked Bible and a typewritten statement of several words entitled, "Part of my life's history."

"I will die clean, if I have to kill myself," was written at the head of one of the sheets.

A strip of bacon, a small paper of pepper, an ounce of tea and $3.19 in currency also were found in the handbag. The police assert that Miss Van Deusen evidently was deranged when she leaped from the building. The landlady of the house in which Miss Van Deusen had been rooming, said that the young woman had been without a position for some time.

"I am trying to write this without the least emotion," her typewritten statement began, "and, though the following statements may seem dramatic, your reason will assure you that they contain only common sense.

"I have very little money and am not allowed to hold a position. I will accept no money but that I earn.

"If I do not get help it will be a certainty that I cannot escape falling into the hands of the spiritualist white slave trade and that will force me to self-destruction."

The police do not understand what Miss Van Deusen meant by "spiritualist white slave trade."

Miss Van Deusen, it is said, was the only daughter of Dr. Lydia Van Deusen, of Falls City, Neb. She is said to have told friends that she worried a great deal over a Hindu cult.

The young woman is said to have been harrassed by a hallucination that she was pursued by the representatives of this cult.

Miss Van Deusen came to Chicago from Cincinnati, where she was a stenographer, June 26th.

A copy of a letter in her handbag addressed to Miss Jane Addams, of Hull House, read:

"I wonder if this note will ever reach you. Good people nowadays are protected by secretaries so that it is hard to get to them. I shall love you if you are good really or intend to be as you determine."

A letter apparently written by Miss Addams in reply stated that she was too busy to see Miss Van Deusen at that time, but would make a later appointment with her.

New York, Nov. 25.—Manager Johnnie Evers, of the Chicago National League club, said today a big baseball trade would probably be made here tomorrow by which Chicago would receive Mitchell, Phelan, Kniseley and "another player," in rteurn for Tinker, who is slated to manage the Cincinnati team. Tinker is expected here tomorrow.

WHITEVILLE HAPPENINGS.

Civic League Active—Partnership Dissolved—Church Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 25.—The ladies of the Civic League are having the premises of the Graded School building graded preparatory to placing shrubbery and hedges which will greatly improve the appearance of the graded school property. Mr. J. T. Lamb, a landscape gardener of Fayetteville, has charge of the work.

Messrs. L. V. Grady and J. R. Williamson, who have been practicing law here as partners for the past three years, have dissolved partnership. Mr. Grady will continue to use the office formerly occupied by him and Mr. Williamson. Mr. Williamson was recently elected a member of the Legislature for Columbus county, and will not open an office until after the adjournment of the Legislature, but will for the present devote his time to his legislative duties.

The regular term of November court for Columbus county for the trial of both civil and criminal cases is in session this week, and is being presided over by Judge E. B. Cline.

Dr. W. H. Crowell is spending a few days in Asheville on business. Mrs. Crowell accompanied him as far as Charlotte, and is visiting relatives there.

Rev. J. P. Pate, pastor of the Methodist church, leaves tomorrow for Fayetteville to attend the annual conference. This is Mr. Pate's first year here, and it is hoped by his parishioners that he may be returned for another year.

Mr. Hezekiah Williamson will leave this week for Washington, D. C., to take up his duties at the Capitol as one of the messengers during the session of Congress. He will also attend school.

COULDN'T TAKE SAIL

President-elect Wilson Suffers From Slight Attack of Indigestion

Hamilton, Nov. 25.—President-elect Wilson suffered today from a slight attack of indigestion which compelled him to decline an invitation for a sail on the private yacht of the Governor and commander-in-chief, Lieutenant General Sir George M. Bulluck. Mrs. Wilson and her daughters, however, accepted.

Governor Wilson has accepted an invitation to attend an amateur theatrical performance on Thursday as the guest of Sir George and Lady Bullock. It is to be a big social event. In referring to the invitation Mr. Wilson said:

"I am not bald enough yet to sit in the first row, but I am going anyhow."

Mr. Wilson, when informed of the death of Senator Rayner, said:

"I learn with sincere regret of the death of Senator Isador Rayner. Our country has lost an able and patriotic servant whom it will be very difficult to replace."

Mr. Wilson's indisposition also prevented him from attending the session of the Burmuda parliament. Early in the afternoon the President-elect crossed the ferry to fulfill a promise to be present during a preliminary debate on the tariff, but he suffered a sharp attack of indigestion and was obliged to return to his cottage.

SANFORD LADY BURNED

Clothing Caught Fire and She Was Horribly Injured Yesterday

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Sanford, N. C., Nov. 25.—This morning about 7:30 o'clock neighbors were startled with screams of fire coming from the home of Mr. A. B. Cox, on Charlotte avenue. Several rushed in and found Mrs. Cox enveloped in a flame. The fire was speedily extinguished and physicians summoned. On arrival of the doctors, Mrs. Cox was found to be very seriously burned on her body and head. Her hair was burned off and her arms and body very badly burned. It is not known how the fire started as Mrs. Cox has not recovered well enough to tell about the fire. However it is believed that she was standing before the fire and her dress caught from the open fire and when she discovered that she was afire she rushed out in the hall screaming and then back into her bedroom where she jumped into the bed and tried to smother the flames but being unable to do so she again rushed out of the room, the cook being the first to reach her.

Mrs. Cox is the daughter of Mr. W. A. Campbell and a niece of Clerk of the Court T. N. Campbell, of Jonesboro.

VICTORY FOR ENGINEERS

Board of Arbitration Makes Award Affecting Eastern Railroads

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—An award that is considered a partial victory for the 30,000 locomotive engineers in their controversy, begun last January, with the 52 railways operating in the territory east of Chicago and north of Norfolk and Cincinnati, was announced here today by the Board of Arbitration which investigated the questions at issue. It grants certain increased compensation and improved and uniform rules of service requested by the engineers, but holds that a general increase of wages on all roads is not warranted upon the basis of the evidence presented.

The board found that on some roads and for certain classes of service, the compensation was too small and therefore introduced into the award the principle of a minimum wage for the entire district. The award, which dates back to May 1st last, and will stand for one year, settles the most important American labor dispute submitted to arbitration since the anthracite coal strike in 1902.

PORTO RICO'S NEW WONDER.

From far away Porto Rico come reports of a wonderful new discovery that is believed will vastly benefit the people. Ramon T. Marchan, of Barceloneta, writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is doing splendid work here. It cured me about five times of terrible coughs and colds, also my brother of a severe cold in his chest and more than 20 others, who used it on my advice. We hope this great medicine will yet be sold in every drug store in Porto Rico." For throat and lung troubles it has no equal. A trial will convince you of its merit. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

The balance was spent for small expense accounts.

Charles S. Bird gave the State Progressive Committee $5,000. Other large contributions were: From the Oscar B. Straus campaign committee, $12,200; Oscar S. Straus, personally, $8,500, and Mrs. Straus, $2,500.

IT'S FINE FOR Catarrh

Millions of Catarrh Victims Have Used Booth's HYOMEI With Wonderful Results

If you own one you can get a bottle of HYOMEI (liquid) for only 50 cts.

If you do not own one, $1.00 will secure for you a complete outfit, including inhaler. And now you have in your possession something that has banished more cases of catarrh than all the catarrh specialists on earth.

Just breathe HYOMEI — that's all you have to do—no stomach dosing. The soothing, healing air passes over the inflamed membrane, kills the germs and heals the inflammation. It is guaranteed to end the distress of catarrh, coughs, croup and colds, or money back. Distributed by R. R. Bellamy and druggists everywhere.

Booth's HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) is Australian Eucalyptus and other grand antiseptics. It contains no cocaine or other injurious drugs.
